CITY PAVING FIRM NAMED IN 'HOT-MIX' SUIT

Mansfield Asphalt Company, 23 Others Involved In $6,000,000 Action.

SUIT FILED BY TAXPAYER

Woman Attorney Says Road Firms 'Cheated,' Received $3,000,000 Illegally.

BULLETIN

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Engineers in the highway department received instructions from Governor Davey to "vindicate themselves" of charges that approximately $2,000,000 was wasted by excessive estimates on hot-mix road projects and suggested the courts as the place to air the charges.

A taxpayer's suit to recover $6,000,000 from 24 road contractors, among them the Mansfield Asphalt and Paving company of Mansfield, was filed today in the Franklin county common pleas court at Columbus.

Defendants in the suit, including the Mansfield firm, are members of the "Hot-Mix" Bituminous association, and state highway department officials who granted them state contracts, a United Press dispatch from Columbus said.

The Mansfield company is headed by C H Stander, former chairman of the Richland County Democratic executive committee.

The suit was filed on behalf of Mrs. Agnes B. Dickinson, a Columbus attorney, by her counsel, Benjamin Levinson. Miss Dickinson previously filed a taxpayer's suit seeking to vacate a liquor trucking contract granted to the Shaw Transport Co., of which John F. Nolan, Steubenville, Democratic leader, is a stockholder.

Lists Fraud Charge.

The new suit charges that the taxpayers have been "cheated and defrauded" out of more than $3,000,000 by the 'hot mix" group, and alleged that the contractors' association violated the Valentine anti-trust act. The petition demanded double damages

The Hot Mix Bituminous Industry of Ohio, Inc., its secretary, Clifford W. Simpson, State Highway Director John J. Jaster, jr., and State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson were named defendants.

Based partially upon disclosures by the senate graft investigating committee, the petition listed the following accusations:

1. That "hot mix" contractors met secretly before highway contract lettings and agreed among themselves who should bid on certain projects.

2. That bids submitted by members of the association were with-

Ex-Ohio Supreme Court Judge, Wife Fatally Wounded

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Former Ohio Supreme Court Justice Coleman Avery, 58, died today, three hours after he was found unconscious beside the body of his wife, Sara, in the kitchen of their home on fashionable North Bend road.

Both had been shot in the head Police Lieut. Martin Roettinger said it "appeared to be a case of murder and suicide."

Roettinger said a revolver from which two shots had been fired was found alongside Avery.

Members of the Avery household said they could give no explanation of the tragedy other than that Avery might have suffered a nervous breakdown.

The bodies were discovered by George Mosley, caretaker on the estate.

Monks Defy Police, Get Away With It

Pets Get Loose, Climb Trees But Coppers Can't Follow.

When a feminie voice—an excited one—called police Saturday afternoon and said there was a monkey on the window sill of her home, peering in at her, Officer O. D. Fair was only slightly disturbed—but when a man a few minutes later insisted that his dog had treed a monkey in his yard, Fair began to think there was monkey business going on and it was time that police took a hand in it.

Officers Russell Miles and John Gilbert were notified by radio to go immediately to the vicinity and "put a stop to this monkey business." Arriving in the cruiser they took one look at the perky little monk perched gaily atop the highest tree—and decided that there was nothing in their special training and police school work that prepared them for this.

It has been some years since either of the two Mansfield coppers had shinned up a tree but a boy of the neighborhood came to their rescue and offered to go after the monkey.

But when the boy started up the tree, the monkey gave vent to a jibbering sneer—well, anyway, it sounded like a sneer—and lightly hopped over to the roof of the house. When the pursuer got back to the ground again, the monk returned to his tree top.

This might have gone on indefinitely if there hadn't been a radio call just then to the officers that the monkey was one of two belonging to E. H. Sorgen, 316 Cline avenue, and that they'd probably come home of their own free will.

The monkeys, named Jake and Lena, are pets at the Sorgen home and are kept in a cage, from which they escaped Saturday afternoon in a dash for liberty and adventure.

After a short stay in the outside world, Jake returned, a bit sheepish—if a monkey can be sheepish—and humble, and glad to get back to the protection of his cage, but Lena, the one who had given police a few hectic moments, was still missing today.

Sorgen brought the pet monkeys to Mansfield from New York City two years ago.

TRIAL UNDERWAY

Liquor Conspiracy Hearing for 24 Opens at Columbus.

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Seating of a federal jury in the liquor conspiracy trial of 24 Cleveland, Painesville, Steubenville and Pittsburgh men was completed shortly before noon today. Opening arguments were to be started immediately.

Andrew Wiggins, Cleveland, one of the defendants, failed to appear and Judge Mell G. Underwood ordered that $5,000 bail posted by Wiggins be forfeited and a search launched for the man.

The trial was expected to last for several days. Federal authorities have termed the men the operators of "the biggest illicit ring since the days of prohibition."

CZECHS PROTEST GERMAN PLANES

Government Hears Germany Promises 'Full Investigation.'

PRAGUE —(U.P.)— Several German war planes, returning to Germany from Austria, flew over Czechoslovakian territory, it became known today.

The government announced in a communique that the German government had promised a "full and painstaking investigation."

Defense Minister Frantisek Machnik declared in a speech yesterday that Czechoslovakia was "in no way effected by the latest happenings."

SUSPECT HELD

Ohioan, 22, Accused In Fatal Stabbing In Cafe.

HAMILTON, O.—(INS)—Truman Carroll, 22, was held in city jail today charged with the murder of Herman Jones, 27, Camden, O.

Jones was fatally stabbed late Saturday night after an argument in a local cafe.

This Meeting Started Whole Austrian Rumpus

Little did the world realize the import behind the meeting of recent conference between Dr. Arthur Seyss-Inquart, left, of Austria and Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany, right. Out of it came the developments of the past four days which resulted in the naming of Seyss-Inquart as chancellor by President Wilhelm Miklas of Austria, below, at Hitler's dictation, after Kurt Schuschnigg had resigned. Mikas later resigned himself, and today Austria is a part of Germany.

COLD TO HALT FLOOD THREAT

30 Hours of Continuous Rainfall Sends County Streams Up to Top of Banks.

Fair and colder weather predicted for the Richland county area tonight is expected to curtail a flood threat in the county which followed more than 30 hours of continuous rainfall.

While all the county's roads were reported open at noon today, County Engineer Howard C. Sword said most of the streams in the county were ready to overflow their banks and inundate highways.

Rainfall since Sunday measured approximately 1.30 inches, according to Enos Sprunger, government observer. The heavy rain sent Clear Fork creek to within a few inches of route 13 at Bellville, and the stream was expected to inundate the highway by night if the rain continues.

The flood threat may be only temporarily halted tonight by freezing weather, the forecast indicated, since Tuesday is due to be cloudy and warmer with more rain due by night.

Today's temperature was 36 degrees, only one degree higher than the low last night. The top reading Sunday was 50 degrees and the 24-hour average was 46, about 11 degrees above normal.

SPEEDS CRABB MURDER PROBE

Attorney General Assigns Prober In Killing of Bride, 19.

PEKIN, Ill.—(AP)—Atty. Gen. Otto Kerner took a hand today in "continued investigation" of the fatal shooting of Mrs. Betty Crabb, pretty 19-year-old bride of a banker's son.

He appointed a special assistant to aid authorities in the investigation after Sheriff Ralph Goar announced that the husband, James Crabb, 21, confessed he shot his wife, fatally but maintained the pistol discharged accidentally.

The girl, a bride of five weeks, was found shot to death in a bedroom the young couple occupied in the home of Banker Willis Crabb in nearby Delavan after the newlyweds returned early on March 1 from a party.

ENGINE KILLS RAIL EMPLOYE

Crestline Brakeman Run Over by Locomotive as He Tries to Board Tender.

CRESTLINE—Apparently missing his footing as he attempted to hop on the tender of a locomotive, William Ford, 39, Pennsylvania brakeman, was fatally injured in the railroad yards here at 7:50 a. m. Sunday.

Ford had just returned from a run to Orrville when the accident happened. The locomotive had hauled a freight train into the yards and was backing up to the roundhouse when Ford sought to board the platform on the tender. He was discovered badly mangled, lying along the tracks by Engineer E. D. Yeagley of Alliance and T. T. Weast of Sebring, the fireman. He died a few minutes later.

Railroad officials said there were no witnesses to the accident.

A veteran of the World war, Ford came to Crestline in 1919 and had lived here since. He was a native of Kingsport, Tenn.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Betty Ford of Kingsport, four brothers and four sisters.

Ford was a member of the American Legion, Ohio Commander Guard of Honor, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the Methodist Episcopal church.

A brother, Blaine, and a sister, Miss Pauline Ford, both of Cleveland, came here yesterday to take charge of the body which will be shipped to Kingsport, Tenn., late today for funeral services and burial.

Ford had been living here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Beck.

FILED YET?

Tomorrow Night's Deadline on 1937 Income Tax.

Have you told Uncle Sam how much money you made last year? If not, you'd better get around to it, for you have only until tomorrow midnight to avoid a penalty.

Not only must you declare your income—if it's in the taxable bracket—but you must pay at least a quarter of your tax, if you can't pay in full.

No single person who earns $1,000 or more a year, and no married persons or married couple, who has an income of $2,500 a year is exempt from declaring his income, even though exemptions may make it unnecessary to pay a tax.

You may make out your own report, but in case you don't know how, the office of the deputy internal revenue collector in the postoffice building will be open until 7:30 today and tomorrow.

NORRIS WARNS UTILITY OWNERS

Tells Them TVA Won't Keep Offer Open Indefinitely.

WASHINGTON—(AP)— Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) predicted today the TVA might withdraw its offer to purchase private utility properties unless the power companies show more willingness "to play fair."

"The TVA will not keep its offer for the purchase of private properties open indefinitely," he declared.

Norris said that temporarily halting the public works program of aiding city power developments —a step suggested by a utilities spokesman — merely would give the private companies a stronger hand in bargaining for sale of their properties to TVA.

POPE SHOCKED

Archbishop's Arrest Might Lead to Showdown With Nazis.

VATICAN CITY — (INS) — A showdown with Germany on the church issue may result from the Austrian coup, sources close to the Holy See's state department believed today.

Arrest of the archbishop of Salzburg shocked Pope Pius, it was stated, and intensification of the anti-Catholic campaign in Germany and its extension to Austria were feared.

Darrow Dies, Learns Answer To His Question On Hereafter

(By INS Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO — Perhaps, Clarence Darrow knows the answer today: the answer to the one question for which he had no answer. For Darrow is dead.

The great criminal lawyer died as he had lived, a bewildered agnostic.

He passed away quietly yesterday at his home following a two months' illness. He would have been 81 on April 18.

Darrow took sides with vehemence throughout his life on every subject except that of God. He tackled any court fight without thought of surrender, brushing aside the consequences of public opinion, once he had made up his mind that he was right, but on the subject of religion, he threw up his hands.

Once he said:

"Life is not worth living. The

COUNTY, MINUS TEARS, UNLOADS RELIEF BURDEN

Board Turns Over Problem on Wednesday, But Will Pay For Auditing, Office.

MAYOR TO CALL COUNCIL

Raising of Funds by City to Be Taken Up at Session; Staff to Be Retained.

Richland county commissioners were ready today to say farewell to the relief burden which they have handled for the past two years, but it won't be a tearful parting.

The commissioners, however, will not be entirely rid of the problem when Mansfield, Madison township and Shelby take it over Wednesday. They will continue to distribute state funds to the subdivisions, pay Director Earl A. Nist for auditing monthly relief accounts and pay the rent on the relief office at 28 Orange street for the next six months.

City Facing Problem Now.

The three sub-divisions, which will take over the relief costs on an order from the state auditor prohibiting the spending of relief money by the county, are now faced with the problem of raising funds to meet the bills.

Mayor Claude M. Hunter said a special meeting of council will be called to act on two pieces of legislation pertaining to relief. One will authorize Service-Safety Director Tracy C. Styert to create the administrative office at the relief headquarters and set the salaries of the staff, and the other will provide a means of raising relief funds.

The first act will serve only to satisfy a legal requirement, since Mayor Hunter said there would be no personnel change at the Orange street relief offices.

Sees Bonds or Tax Levy.

Producing revenue to buy supplies for the city's needy is a more serious problem. The mayor saw two possibilities today. One is to call for a vote on a special bond issue for relief purposes and the other will be a tax levy to provide an additional fund for relief.

Neither will produce immediate revenues, and meanwhile the city, which has by far the greatest relief burder of any of the sub-divisions, must either let relief bills go unpaid or borrow money to meet them. No time has been set

JOINS IN HUNT

Mother Flies In Plane Searching For Lost Children.

While everyone else has given up hope of finding alive any of the nine persons who were on the TWA plane which disappeared two weeks ago tomorrow, Mrs. Jay N. Dirlam, whose son and daughter were aboard the ship, insisted upon taking a place in a searching plane upon her arrival in Fresno, Cal., last week.

Mrs. Dirlam spent two hours in the air, flying over the Bass Lake region, where the ship is believed to have crashed, according to Associated Press dispatches to The News-Journal.

Mrs. Dirlam left Mansfield Wednesday in company with her father, Rufus A. Tracy, 446 Park avenue west. Her husband, Jay N. Dirlam, was buried the day before.

Million Jam Streets To Greet Leader of Nazified Austria, Riding In Triumph Into City; New Laws On Jews, Churches Enacted.

BULLETIN

BERLIN—(INS)—Contrary to previous expectations, Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler will make no speech in Vienna tonight, it was officially announced here. He will address his new Austrian nation at 2 p. m. (8 a. m. EST) tomorrow.

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
(By INS Staff Correspondent)

VIENNA—A conquering hero with all Austria at his feet, Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler rode triumphantly into Vienna at 5:45 p. m. tonight (11:45 a. m. EST).

Smiling and waving from the front seat of his automobile, the fuehrer acknowledged with obvious pride the adulation heaped upon him by the capital he he left a quarter-century ago as an obscure housepainter and to which he returned as a modern Napoleon.

The fuehrer wound his way into the heart of his newest provincial capital from the city of Linz at the head of a motor cavalcade consisting of a score of officials cars and 13 more containing secret service men.

Through streets jammed with countless cheering thousands, the fuehrer's car was driven directly to the Imperial hotel, once the residence of Austrian archdukes.

The entire hostelry had been reserved for the fuehrer and his party. He was rushed inside the building and a moment later appeared on the balcony presumably to address his people.

But the frenzied cheering that arose like a volcanic eruption from the tightly-jammed square drowned out everything that he or those who wanted to introduce him had to say.

The 100-mile drive from Linz to Vienna was a triumphant procession such as had not been seen in Austria since the palmiest days of the Hapsburgs.

Because of the tremendous crowds jamming the motor roads en route, the journey took three times as long as usual. The fuehrer's car crept at a snail's pace through solid lines of humanity which yelled itself hoarse at every foot of the way.

At 5 o'clock, the bells rang out in all Catholic churches of Vienna by order of Archbishop Cardinal Innitzer. Sirens screamed also.

The Vienna crowd had now grown to at least a million. It surged desperately against the lines of thousands of German police especially imported to guard the fuehrer.

The entire Vienna police and several regiments of German forces were scarcely sufficient to handle the excited throng.

A battalion of Austria's elite guard lined up behind a regiment of the German army, filling the street opposite the Imperial hotel.

"One people, one state, one leader!" shouted hundreds of thousands of throats. Their cries competed with the thunder from a swarm of Field Marshal Herman Wilhelm Goering's bombing planes as the fuehrer drove down the famous old Ringstrasse preceded by armored cars.

His cavalcade of seventy automobiles traveled at a leisurely pace through his new empire today and although Hitler's car is one of the fastest super-charged racers, capable of 150 miles an hour, it was able to average barely 20.

It took the procession more than twice the normal three hours to travel from Linz, where Hitler had for two days been reorganizing

Boost In Army Strength Looms As British Answer To Hitler

BULLETIN

LONDON—(INS)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain was cheered this afternoon when he entered the house of commons to report on Hitler's seizure of Austria.

LONDON—(INS)—Conscription for civilian defense purposes, a 25 to 50 per cent speed-up in rearmament, and launching of the greatest recruiting program since the World war today were predicted in authoritative government quarters as Britain's likely answer to Adolf Hitler's conquest of Austria.

While an extraordinary meeting of the cabinet considered France's urgent request that Britain proclaim her intention to fight if Hitler invades Czechoslovakia, the press warned the people they must prepare for new and greater sacrifices to rush the arms program to completion and strengthen home defenses.

For the first time, responsible government quarters are discussing the urgent necessity for compulsory organization of the civilian population for precautions against air raids, maintenance of the food supply, and communication services.

Compulsory service in the territorial army (corresponding to the National Guard in America) for youths, on a limited scale, is also being considered.

This amounts to conscription, which Great Britain has always avoided except in war time.

A lightning speed-up in rearm-

Vienna Jewry Alarmed, Seeks Visas To Flee Nazi 'Terrors'

VIENNA—(AP)—Hysteria swept Vienna Jewry today as Austria became but a name in history, her land, her people, her army and her government now a state of Fuehrer Hitler's Nazi Germany.

As the fuehrer drove from Linz to the capital for a triumphal entry, hundreds of fearful Jews lined up before the Polish and other consulates to ask visas to enable them to leave the country.

A number of Vienna coffe houses were placarded with warnings on windows: "Jews not permitted to enter."

The postoffice announced every parcel intended for foreign countries would be opened and searched to prevent smuggling of money from the country.

Jewish druggists were told their medical supplies might be needed by hospitals. Some voluntarily emptied their shelves and donated their goods.

It was announced not more than 1,000 schillings ($180) would be paid depositors from their savings accounts within the coming week.

Deposits made after March 13, Sunday, were exempt, as were accounts for wages, pensions, et al, with limitations.

Vienna streets clearly showed the change by which the tempo of the goose step swept out the Austrian nation with the resignation of President Wilhelm Miklas.

3,000-Mile Shock Absorber.

LOOK at a map of Europe and in your mind tint that little portion that used to be Austria the same color as Nazi Germany.

Then find a map that shows the Atlantic ocean, and be glad it is so wide. It wouldn't hurt to wish a little that it could be even wider.

By now, the German seizure of Austria is an accomplished fact. The old Austrian government is overthrown, the German army has taken control and Adolf Hitler is riding into Vienna to acclaim befitting, we are told, a national hero.

To part of Austria, he may be that. But he isn't that to all of Germany, no matter what the elections there show, and it's safe to say that not everyone in Austria really feels that way.

It isn't healthy, however, when Adolf is around, to indicate that you aren't enthusiastic about him and all his ideas.

Hitler has pulled a squeeze play that gives him an advantage other European nations wish he didn't have. The fact that they weren't either willing or prepared to stop him makes the situation all the worse—for Europe. They may not be prepared to stop his next move—and no one thinks Adolf has made his last one—and some of them fear that his next move may be against them.

All of which is reason why United States ought to be glad for that 3,000 miles of water that separates it from all the tension, fear and vulnerability that is spread over Europe today.

Of course, the United States is affected by Hitler's latest move—and will be affected by subsequent moves, just as it has been by developments in the past.

Nevertheless, 3,000 miles of water soaks up a lot of shock, and the effect here is less serious than it would be without that Atlantic.

Antiseptic Light.

APOLLO, the ancient sun-god, was a life-giver and also a destroyer. Modern physicians find in sunlight the same attributes. Natural sunlight promotes health and kills disease germs. And artificial sunlight, produced and controlled in ultra-violet lamps, is found to be a very good destroyer of germs.

Some rays of the ultra-violet band are better for this purpose than others. Two doctors who have been working for several years in a New Jersey laboratory discovered the wave-length that serves this purpose best. They have developed a lamp using mercury and other gases, enclosed in a glass tube of a special type which allows only the desired wave-length to pass through.

With this apparatus, they say, they are able to kill bacteria in hospitals and surgical operating rooms, sterilizing the air, instruments, and so on. They also suggest the use of such means for sterilizing food supplies, killing germs in places of public assembly, and so on.

It amounts to bringing intensified, selected rays of sunlight indoors under scientific control. Any good mercury vapor lamp, or even a carbon arc lamp, experts say, may serve the same germ-killing purposes, but not so effectively.

Continuing Liquor Evils.

MANY persons who favored repeal of prohibition and believed that temperance would thus be advanced are greatly disturbed about present conditions. One of the new and alarming problems is shown in a city which has 168 beer parlors and eight night clubs located within 400 feet of public school buildings. There are 43 beer parlors and one night club within 100 feet of schools. Nine liquor-dispensing places are so close to schools that "a thirsty person almost could open a class room window and grab a glass off a counter."

There are few "wets" in the country who would step forward and approve such a condition. In the community mentioned the state board of liquor control has only its own discretion to guide it in licensing and locating beer parlors and night clubs. Discretion that allows liquor to be sold so close to schools is hardly to be trusted with such important decisions.

The community itself is to blame, too. Its indifference is directly responsible for liquor board indiscretions. It is clear that we still have not solved the liquor problem and that common sense, education and continued vigilance are needed to check the abuse of liquor.

'Build America.'

A movement said to have started in one of the midwestern states aims to organize every branch of the building industry behind a construction campaign covering the county. "Build America" is what they call it. The title seems inspired.

When it was explained to the president at Washington, he declared himself for it 100 per cent. "This will start it!" he said. By "it" he meant business recovery.

The organizers aim to unite everyone connected with the building industry, from carpenter to capitalist, in a vast salesmanship campaign. Homes are to be "sold" to the nation both figuratively and literally, on a scale never known before.

The time is ripe for such an effort. Homes are needed by our population more than ever, and there is great need of employment. Economic authorities seem to agree that there is a sort of magic in this combination, by which the nation can make itself prosperous by the pleasant process of hiring people to provide millions of new homes, for rich and poor alike.

A "floodless spring" is expected in Pennsylvania and the Ohio river valley. Los Angeles got the eastern rain this time.

Hollywood missed a big opportunity by not having a Noah play ready for filming when that flood came.

The tired business man who wants a breathing spell may also be an eager business man rarin' to go.

Keeping Step

—By LESLIE EICHEL

One of our Washington observers—J. Claude Allen—sends this interesting column on "Off-the-Record" conversations in Washington.

WASHINGTON — That magic phrase, "off-the-record," is becoming decidedly unpopular in the national capital, both among some officials, and among capital newspaper correspondents.

Officials are finding that comment which they may make off-the-record comes back to haunt them in one form or another at some later date. Prevalence of off-the-record confidences has encouraged the profitability of news tipster services, and confidential business letters which are sold on the basis of possession of "inside" information.

These services have sprung up like mushrooms in Washington during the past five years. Business men and public officials have paid thousands of dollars in tolls to these news tipsters, whose "inside" information is derived almost entirely from remarks made "off-the record" at Washington press conferences.

SCRIBES IRKED

Newspapermen, on their part, have recently grown extremely irked at the growing and insidious practice of shutting off news by placing it "off-the-record." This indirect form of censorship is peculiarly effective when high public officials wish to prevent premature publication of their pet projects through news "leakage." This is done by making a full exposition of these projects and adding, "Of course, boys, this is all off-the-record."

Naturally, such a pronouncement ties the hands of every reporter who might otherwise gather the facts from other sources, or ferret them out by sheer force of divination. Any writer who came out with a story which had been already given out "off-the-record" would immediately place himself open to charges of violating a confidence, and would lose "face," whether or not his story was drawn from the off-the-record sources.

This being the case, officials have frequently made use of this device to keep their plans secret, as far as the public is concerned.

A growing body of newspapermen have begun to protest the prolific resort to off-the-record statements by Washington officials. The White House is generally considered to have avoided any abuse of this practice. Other government departments, however, have not been so judicious.

In many recent cases, when an official has announced "I can tell you off-the-record . . .," newspapermen have quickly put in, "If you don't mind, we would rather not have you tell us, if it must be off-the-record."

TRIAL BALLOONS

Another abuse of the "off-the-record" habit has been in the practice of using news columns of the nation's press at trial balloons for pet political projects.

Officials wishing to test public reaction on certain projects make them known off-the-record, and indicate that the writer may use the material "on his own authority." That means that the reporters may describe the idea or project, but not connect it with its true author. This gives officials the privilege of using the news columns for the airing of their ideas, without accepting the responsibility for those ideas.

There has been a growing rebellion among newspaper correspondents against this practice too.

Newspaper columnists, and political "dope" writers usually are considered free to use their columns for the airing of trial balloons. Reportorial columns, however, should be kept free from such personal use, it is generally felt among the rank-and-file newspaper correspondents.

Young America Says---

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

SHOULD A YOUNG WIFE WORK?

Here's one who did. And then—

"Dear Elsie:

"I'M WRITING THIS AS A LETTER OF THANKS TO THE EMPLOYER WHO LAID ME OFF. FOR I NEVER KNEW WHAT LOVE AND LIFE WERE LIKE UNTIL HE DID.

"I'm 29...married...and, until recently, worked. Then business was dull. I lost my job—and we thought it a calamity. Now I know it was a blessing.

"Like thousands of other young wives who go to the office each day, I did my own housework. Which meant that I rushed madly about in the morning, getting some sort of a breakfast, giving our apartment a 'lick an' a promise'—then off to the office. In the evening it was the same—a dinner hastily thrown together out of bags and cans; a feverish effort to clean, mend, etc. By the time this was finished, I was too worn out to even go to a movie.

"Then I lost my job and I found another infinitely happier one—the full-time job of making a house into a home. I learned that preparing a good dinner is as great an accomplishment as turning out a good bond transcript. I discovered the sweetness of neighborliness, the pride of a spic and span home, and the joy of a contented, grateful, admiring husband.

"To be sure, our budget is cramped—life is not a Utopia. But I'm saying with all my heart—'THANKS, BOSS, FOR LAYING ME OFF.'

Mrs. Norman Dalton—age 29,

That's the happiest sermon I've heard in many a day and here's hoping that the prize will be the makings of a grand celebration, spunky girl.

Next comes Dora Selkoff of Baltimore, Md., with a walloping defence of our American public schools.

"Recently," says Dora, "I heard a woman say—'I wouldn't think of sending my child to a public school.' Then she named the exclusive girls' school which her daughter attends.

"To that mother, and all like her, my answer is—'NUTS.' You can't tell me that these snooty, expensive private institutions give a better education or turn out finer citizens than our plain public schools."

"It doesn't help a child to mingle only with the elite. It must establish contact with the masses some day, and a cloistered childhood isn't going to make the job any easier. On the contrary, I believe a youngster misses an essential part of life by not being associated with 'the rank and file' of Regular Kids.

"Run through the list of the great men and women of America. Virtually all of them attended public schools and made their respective marks in the world through sheer determination and hard work. Children need the 'roughage' of mingling and making friends with all kinds of people, and no parent has the right to deprive them of it."

Dora Selkoff—age 19,
2814 Parkwood Ave.,
Baltimore, Md.
($10 prize winner)

Good going, youngster! And come again, soon. I don't agree, however, that private schools give inferior educations — or friends. We must admit, in fairness, that, by their very nature, they often offer advantages which our public schools cannot afford. But whatever their advantages, they lack that democratic touch wherein lies our only hope of cure for a sick and bewildered nation.

And finally Frank Keenan of Brooklyn, N. Y., with a message that's brief but plenty potent!

"LISTEN, PROFESSIONAL POLITICIANS—

"Speaking for America's young manhood, let me advise you to recall that passage in the Bible where, before a feasting assembly of your kind, a Hand appeared and wrote upon the wall—'THOU ART WEIGHED IN THE BALANCES AND FOUND WANTING! THY DAYS ARE NUMBERED!'

"This applies to YOU, who muddle and wallow at Washington while a bewildered country cries for help. We, the real Americans, have literally weighed you and your ways and found them wanting. We don't want Communism! We don't want a National Poor Farm! We don't want graft! We don't want Relief! We do want Work!

"Business Men of America, I ask you—show us the way! You have been trained in Business Managemnt. You have the most to lose from a Communistic America. Forget your personal feuds and imported isms—GIVE US A DECENT AMERICAN GOVERNMENT WHERE EVERY SELF-RESPECTING MAN HAS HIS RIGHT AND EQUAL CHANCE!

"Frank Keenan—age 29

($5 prize winner)

One hundred and thirty million people will applaud that protest, Frank!

WORDS OF THE WISE

Impatience turns an ague into a fever, a fever to the plague, fear into despair, anger into rage, loss into madness and sorrow to amazement.—Jeremy Taylor.

Timely Editorial

DOESN'T LIKE WHIPPING

An account in a local newspaper of the arrest of two men, accused of kidnaping four young people and forcing them to drive to Toledo, ended with this paragraph:

Kearney . . . told the police he did not mind what they did so long as they did not send him back to Canada. "I not only got more than four years for a robbery there, but they gave me 10 lashes for good measure before they let me out. I don't want to go back there."

In Canada when the law steps in to call a wrongdoer to account it means business, and Kearney has learned that the Dominion is no happy hunting ground for people of his sort. He has had enough.

The United States is something different. Here the law is easy. In particular there is no whipping post. And parole is always a possibility for a person with a pull or a glib tongue.

Kearney rather likes it here. He says he doesn't care what the law does, because he thinks it won't do much.

Is there any need to point the moral?—Detroit Free Press.

Delay Real Peritonitis Danger.

—By DR. ROYAL COPELAND

Do you know what the "peritoneum" is? Let me tell you something about it.

The peritoneum is a thin, glistening, delicate membrane covering the intestine, as well as most of the abdominal organs. It is smooth and moist. Because of its shining and soft surface it aids in the normal movements and activities of the intestines. The membrane has tiny glands which manufacture a fluid; this lubricates the parts and makes it possible for the various organs to move about freely. It prevents the different surfaces from sticking together.

The peritoneum has other functions. Primarily it serves as a protective covering to the parts. It softens the effects of blows and other injuries. It absorbs water from the system, and scientists say it has absorbed capacity even greater than that of the stomach and intestines.

What Causes It.

"Peritonitis" is the name given to an inflammation of the peritoneum. This is one of the unpleasant and common complications of neglected appendicitis. But infection and inflammation of the peritoneum may follow other conditions. It may result from a perforating wound of the abdomen, or rupture of some diseased organ within the abdomen.

The victim of peritonitis complains first of sudden abdominal pain. This may be so sharp and severe as to produce complete collapse. At times, however, depending on the cause of the inflammation, the pain may be much less violent in its nature. Occasionally it may be so mild as actually to be disregarded.

As the infection progresses and the inflammation spreads, the patient is extremely uncomfortable. He seeks to find a position which will keep the abdominal wall at rest. He does this by lying with his knees drawn up. He avoids movements because the slightest exertion increases the pain. Foods are usually vomited as soon as swallowed. High fever and other symptoms are present.

Serious Disorder.

Peritonitis is a serious condition. Its presence in appendicitis, for example, demands immediate operation if recovery is to be had. Too often the victims of peritonitis delay operation. As a result of such delay, the chances of recovery are slight.

Any sudden, severe abdominal pain, especially if it persists, should arouse the suspicion that some internal disorder exists. It should never be neglected. Do not pass it off thinking it to be the result of indigestion, but consult with your doctor at once.

FAIR ENOUGH

—By WESTBROOK PEGLER

LOS ANGELES—At a lunch in Kansas City lately, the speaker, a Mr. Collins, told of a man standing at a bar who ran for home when a voice at the door cried, "McGuire, your house is on fire."

"He had run six blocks," Mr. Collins said, "before he suddenly dug his heels into the ground, skidded to a stop and said, "Hell, my name isn't McGuire!"

Pegler

Mr. Collins was making the point that we are all slaves of habit in thought, and I use his story to open the question of Red-baiting and ask why Reds or Communists of various shades should enjoy an immunity which is not given the members of any other political faith and which the Reds themselves allow to nobody who disagrees with them.

Why not bait Reds? Out of sheer carelessness a superstition has been allowed to grow to the size of a robust principle that of all the political elements in this country the Reds alone must be treated with special courtesy.

LIBERALS AND SOCIALISTS BAITED

The favorite attack of the Reds themselves, which they have made popular even with persons who are not Reds but only want to be fair, is to assert that the Red-baiter is a political bigot who recklessly flogs liberals and Socialists in his sweeping denunciations of the bolos.

I will grant that this has been known to happen, with the stipulation, however, that many liberals and Socialists keep very bad company and that many Reds, wise in the uses of protective coloration, pretend to be liberals and Socialists. But, considering that the Reds despise the liberal and Socialists, their concern for these elements obviously is false. Since when have they been so solicitious for liberals and Socialists? They bait liberals and Socialists themselves.

On the other hand, the Reds are notoriously careless in their generalizations, for to them everyone who is not a Red, or pink enough to be useful as a decoy, is a Fascist. They violently abuse as Fascists many ordinary Democrats and Republicans whose detestation of Fascism is known to be as fierce as their hatred of the Moscow horror.

Yet, thanks to the American habit of accepting ideas without examination, they have enjoyed the benefit of a tradition that Red-baiting is beneath the political chivalry of true Americans. Our papers, even the most conservative, often have uttered self-conscious denials of any such intention when, in decent loyalty to their principles, they should have ripped and slashed the Reds with abandon.

UNNECESSARY HANDICAP IMPOSED

This inhibition dates back to the time of A. Mitchell Palmer, but should be overcome because it imposes an unnecessary handicap in a scuffle with an opponent who fights tomcat style.

Chicago and Los Angeles, in The Tribune and The Times, respectively, possess two of the most intemperate and highly colored reactionary papers in the country, but they are models of calm and patient fairness by comparison with the least vicious of the Red publications.

And direct controversy is avoided in respect for ex-Senator Jim Watson's quaint but indisputable dictum that nobody ever won a personal contest with a skunk.

Let's Look Around

—By G. J. KOCHENDERFER

Seeing Mobile In Azalea Time.

MOBILE, Ala.—It has become especially noticeable, in traveling through southern states, that every city prides itself on SOMETHING—and that people living in even the most thriving industrial cities take the time and go to the expense of cultivating beauty as a community activity.

Mobile, for instance, is an important industrial and business center with a population around seventy thousand, but it is the gorgeous flame of Mobile's Azalea Trail and the Bellingrath Gardens that make this city better known all over the country than its total of material assets.

Now the Bellingrath Gardens and the Azalea Trail are at the height of bloom and visitors are thronging into the city from every state to avail themselves of the opportunity to enjoy this floral fairyland.

In the city a 15-mile flower-lined route, plainly marked, is known as the Azalea Trail, winding through residential and suburban sections and all the while presenting a varicolored vision of splendor that enraptures all who see it.

Azaleas, as they are grown here, are in many sizes and hues—white, pale pink, bright orange, brilliant watermelon pink—intermingled sometimes with many varieties of camellia japonica, and sometimes with a background of live oaks splendidly draped with Spanish moss.

PROBABLY best known and most widely heralded of all the southern beauty spots are the Bellingrath Gardens, which travelers in many lands say are unsurpassed for beauty anywhere in the world.

During each azalea season thousands of visitors come to these gardens from all parts of the United States and from many foreign countries.

Developed within a ten-year period by Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bellingrath, the gardens are on an estate twenty miles south of Mobile, with azalea and camellia plantings covering around 50 acres of what had originally been a semi-tropical jungle of magnolias, live and water oaks, pines, holly and dogwood—a natural beauty which has been magically transformed by dexterous landscaping and the enthusiasm of Mr. and Mrs. Bellingrath.

Entering the gardens, visitors walk leisurely along paths that bring surprises and new scenes of loveliness at every turn. In the gardens are more than fifty thousand azalea bushes, representing 125 varieties, some reaching a height of 17 feet and being from 25 to 30 feet in diameter.

It was Dorothy Dix who remarked, after visiting these gardens, "I don't think that the Garden of Eden itself, in its palmiest days, could have been any more glorious than the paradise you have constructed."

THE drive from New Orleans to Mobile carries us through Gulfport, Miss., where a stop must be made long enough to drop in and say "Hello" to Clayton Rand, last year's president of the National Editorial association, and live-wire owner of the Dixie Press, in this thriving little city.

Clayton Rand, be it known, is a versatile character, somewhat remindful of Elbert Hubbard in the broad scope of his activities and in his unfailing practice of speaking and writing what he believes to be the truth.

He has spoken in Ohio on a number of occasions and is well known among newspaper men all over the country. A Democrat of the old school, Rand can see no good coming out of present New Deal policies and has no hesitancy in saying so.

Just now he is busily engaged in writing a series of pamphlets on men of the southern states who have been outstanding in their accomplishments. He also writes a syndicated daily short feature used by a constantly increasing number of newspapers.

ALSO on the road to Mobile is "Beauvoir," the stately mansion which was the final home of Jefferson Davis, and where, in peace and quiet, he wrote "The Rise and Fall of the Southern Confederacy," still regarded as the greatest and most outstanding book on that subject.

For a number of years Beauvoir, which faces beautifully on the Gulf of Mexico, has been used as a home for Confederate veterans and their widows. There are now only 12 of the old veterans being cared for at the home—all above the age of 90. Those who participated in the war between the states, whether in the ranks of the Blue or the Gray, are rapidly passing from earth. As they meet on the other side may it be hoped there will be no bitterness remaining—each followed the dictates of his conscience and was loyal to the cause he espoused.

BEFORE getting entirely away from thoughts of New Orleans, however, let's not overlook the importance that attaches to the choice and preparation of food in that city.

Aside from antique shops and souvenir stands, the French Quarter runs most strongly to eating places of such wide variety as to meet all tastes, but particularly stressing French and Creole cookery and placing great emphasis on fish and other sea foods.

While hotels, restaurants and cafeterias in the newer parts of the city offer customary variety and price range, it is the famous eating places in the old section that are most likely to attract interest from visitors—at least for an occasional meal.

Here are the familiar names, so frequently mentioned by writers of books and magazine articles—Antoine's, Arnaud's, La Louisiane—and a half dozen others.

Among all of them, it is Antoine's that is most likely to be selected for a dinner that is to be typical of the artistry of French cookery. For Antoine's is the oldest and best known of them. It was in 1840 that Antoine Alcaitore came to America from France and established in New Orleans the restaurant that descended to his son Jules and is now operated by his grandson, Roy L. Alcaitore.

During a few days stay in New Orleans you will probably eat at a number of different places—that is customary. But at least one dinner should be at Antoine's—with plenty of time allowed for unhurried enjoyment of every part of it. This is not merely a dinner—it is an event.

LOST LADY

CHAPTER XVII

They were in the dining room now, and the coffee was served, so Jose only said to Don Ponce, "I'll tell you later," and let it go at that.

The coffee was very hot and the men were in a hurry to be off. But Don Ponce drank most hurriedly of all. Suddenly he set his cup down, arose—begging permission to do so, of course—and said, "I've got an idea. Maybe I can find out something. May I send one of your men to Tijuana in a car, Don Vincente?"

"Surely, Don Ponce. Anything you want. But we'll have to meet him on the road; we won't be here when he gets back.

"I'll arrange that Don Vicente." Don Ponce said. "I have a friend or two in Tijuana; it just occurred to me that if I could get Vasquez arrested on any kind of charge, it might be helpful. The police are not always very particular . . . if there's a reasonable charge against a man. Well, we'll see." And he went out.

Very shortly thereafter one of Don Vincente's men drove away from the hacienda in a car, a message to a Don Fernando Ramos, in care of the Cafe Portfirio Diaz, in his pocket.

But where the road turned so that the car was out of sight of the house, Jose Verdugo was standing in the road. The car came to a halt and Jose explained that he suddenly found it necessary to go to Tijuana, so would ride in this car. They could meet the others as they returned.

Jose got in beside the driver, and the car resumed its way.

And within 20 minutes it was followed by a party of a dozen mounted men, Don Vincente and Charlie Kilbourne and Don Ponce in the lead.

Within ten minutes more, this party was followed by a girl named Mercedes, in khaki riding clothes, a .38 slung at her hip and a rifle in a boot hanging under one leg.

In Tijuana, Red Vasquez was climbing into a car with Gregorio, headed for the old Osuna abode.

And five minutes after he departed, a girl, wrapped to the eyes in a black shawl, was getting into a car in the driver's seat of which sat Pablo Sanchez smelling strongly of tequila.

When the flood lights had gone out at Rancho La Luz during the raid, Murray Kilbourne had rushed to the house to see what was the matter. But a dark figure rose abruptly before him, and before he could guard himself, he felt a pistol poking him in the stomach, while a masked man ordered him to drop his gun, turn around and march.

He was left with no alternative To resist would have been suicidal; these fellows had been shooting to kill. Whereas, if he submitted for the moment, a chance might arise for him to make his escape. Wherefore he dropped his pistol, turned and marched off in the direction indicated.

A hundred feet away other dark figures surrounded him, poked pistols at him, led him off. He turned his head to see what had become of his original captor, but that one was no longer in evidence.

"Move quickly," a voice commanded him, and a pistol prodded his back.

Murray recognized the voice of Red Vasquez.

Suddenly the floodlights were on again, and he realized that he and Vasquez and another man were plainly discernible to the defenders of the rancho. But he also realized that they could neither shoot at his captors nor attempt a rescue at the moment.

"Keep moving," commanded Red Vasquez. "What—"

Appeared Mercedes then, most amazingly, from the darkness, her pistol covering Vasquez.

"Mercedes!" exclaimed Murray. "Go back! Go away! This is no place—"

The spat of a bullet and Mercedes had fallen. Seeing red, Murray had turned upon Vasques, only to be knocked unconscious by a blow upon the head from the Mexican's pistol. And when he regained consciousness, he was riding in a truck, and Jose was whispering to him, astonishingly. But Vasquez had come to sit between them, so there had been no conversation with Jose.

When the old Osuna house—an old hacienda in which no one had lived for many years and which was little more than a pile of ruins—was reached, Murray was unceremoniously hauled from the truck, escorted to one of the rooms that still remained more or less intact, thrown into it, and the door locked. Beside which a guard was placed—Murray could hea r his measured tread back and forth in front of the door.

The American made himself as comfortable as was possible in a bare room with an earthen floor. Which is to say, he sat down in a corner, which gave him something to lean against, found and lighted a cigarette and despite the headache occasioned by Vasquez's blow, tried to figure out why he had been made a prisoner instead of being summarily killed, which he knew was the fate that Vasquez had had in store for him for some days.

He was quite aware that Vasquez had not thus acted without some very good reason. Some reason which, probably, was more important than vengeance; otherwise he would have been lying dead at Rancho La Luz. But what that reason might be, he was quite unable to guess.

Suddenly he realized that he had not let himself think about a still more important matter. Or, rather, that he had been thinking about it all the time, underneath the surface, with a sick feeling Mercedes. Had she been killed? He had seen her fall when a bullet had put an end to her brave attempt to rescue him. But was she dead, or only injured?

He threw away his cigarette, rose and marched back and forth across the room, anger loosed within him. Anger against Red Vasquez, and affection, admiration, for the companion of his youth who had so valiantly rushed to his aid. And he knew that only the death of Red Vasquez would wipe out that score Even though Vasquez had not fired the shot that struck Mercedes. It was his doing, just the same.

$200,000 STILL DUE IN COUNTY TAX PAYMENTS

Collection Period Will Not Be Extended, Kolb Says; Ends Next Monday.

Richland county's first half real estate tax collection moved into the final week today with more than $200,000 still due the county on the half-year charge.

Receipts today amounted to approximately $355,000 on a $600,000 charge, which includes both current and delinquent taxes. The collection period ends March 21.

Sees Rush This Week.

Although receipts are below last year's figures, County Treasurer John E Kolb said there will be no extension of time for payment without penalty. He predicted that daily receipts will climb rapidly during the final days of the period but held little hope that the total receipts will equal last year's near 100 per cent collection.

Personal tax receipts, which had passed the $17,000 mark today, are ahead of last year's figures for the same date, County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe said. Approximately 1,000 accounts of a total 6,400 have been paid, with the collection period less than half over. Books will close April 1.

An enlarged staff of auditor's clerks is stationed in the first-floor lobby of the courthouse to help personal property owners fill out their tax blanks.

REVEALS 9 NEW CASES OF T. B.

Monthly Clinic Report Shows Positive Tests For Third of Persons Examined.

Nine new cases of tuberculosis have been found in Richland county, a report of the diagnostic chest clinic which was held last Friday under the direction of Dr. T. M. Bliss of Akron, showed today.

Of the 27 suspects examined, nine showed a positive test while 18 proved negative.

Dr. Roy C. Rehder, city-county health commissioner said that the nine new cases brings to 19 the total number of new cases discovered in the county this year. Of the 113 suspects examined by the clinic this year, 94 have shown negative tests.

He pointed out that three of the cases were among the 14 city suspects examined. Two of the three from Shelby proved positive while one of the seven from other parts of the county were afflicted.

Dr. Rehder said he felt deep concern over the mounting number of cases of tuberculosis in the county.

"It has got to the point where we must begin to prepare for some means to care for these patients," he said.

He indicated the need for a sanitorium where the tuberculosis patients could be kept under the supervision of a physician trained in this particular work.

BRICKER OUT FOR GOVERNOR

Ex-Attorney General Formally Announces Candidacy For G. O. P. Nomination.

(By International News Service)

COLUMBUS—John W. Bricker, former attorney general, announced today that he is an aspirant to the Republican nomination for governor.

Bricker, whose announcement long has been expected, declared his intentions in a formal statement in which he committed himself to a reduction in state government costs and in taxes. He said:

"The burden of taxation has so mounted that it is imperative that immediate steps be taken to curb that ever increasing cost and bring about substantial reductions."

He also outlined briefly his intention of reorganizing the liquor department and of insisting upon adherence to law in the matter of state purchases. He added:

"Political racketeering must cease in the state highway department and that great money-spending department of state government must be operated for the purpose of building roads."

Regarding state employes he said: "I have always been committed to the principal of civil service. I believe in protecting, through the principals of civil service, those who are honestly doing a good job for the state."

This is the second time Bricker has sought the governorship. He won, without opposition, the Republican nomination in 1936 but was defeated by Governor Davey in the general election.

RENEWS ACTION

City Files Amended Petition to Obtain Title to Land.

In an amended petition filed in common pleas court, the city of Mansfield today had renewed its action to obtain title to 9.5 acres of land near Lexington on which one of the city's water supply stations is located.

The petition names three defendants, Carl and Linda Blumenshenkel, owners and the Federal Land Bank of Louisville which holds mortgages on the property. A previous action named the owners only.

The city's amended petition, filed by City Solicitor Marion D. Ward, jr., seeks to place in effect an agreement drawn up last April, giving the city an option on the land with the right to purchase it for $2,000.

The city also asks that the Federal Land Bank be required to set forth its mortgages on the property so that a release can be obtained, and that the other defendants be ordered to surrender the property to the city.

DARROW DIES, LEARNS ANSWER

whole world is just a bughouse and I'll be glad to get out of it."

And yet he turned his back on high positions to save the lives of others. It was this to which he devoted his legal life. Although he died comfortably well-to-do, money meant little to Darrow.

He was supposed to have received a fabulous fee for saving the lives of Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, Chicago's wealthy young "thrill slayers" of a decade ago. But he contested with as much vigor and as successfully the death threats hanging over many a lesser evildoer.

Darrow started his career as the "great defender" when he won freedom for Eugene V. Debs as chief conspirator in the railroad strike of 1894 Successively he represented the McNamara brothers in the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building and "Big Bill" Haywood for the murder of former Governor Frank Steunenberg of Idaho.

He opposed William Jennings Bryan in the trial of John T. Scopes for teaching evolution in Tennessee and saw the country court's conviction reversed. He came out of retirement to lead the defense in the sensational Massie murder case in Honolulu in 1932.

He is survived by his widow, a son, Paul, and a sister.

SHERIFF SELLS 2 PROPERTIES

Mortgage Holders Buy Foreclosed Lots At Public Auction.

Two Mansfield properties were purchased by the mortgage holders at a sheriff's sale Saturday at the courthouse.

The Farmers Savings and Trust company purchased the Orlando O. Dickson property at 110 Cleveland avenue for $3,144. The lot was appraised at $3,000 and was sold to pay a judgment for $2,781 obtained by the bank.

A property at 440 North Bowman street, sold on a $2,852 foreclosure judgment, was bid in by the Home Owners Loan corporation, which obtained judgment for $2,940. The property was owned by Frederick S. Lewis and was appraised at $3,000.

INSPECTS UNIT

Louisville Officer Will Check Battery D Tomorrow.

Federal inspection of Battery D of the 134 Field Artillery, the city's National Guard unit, will be held tomorrow night at the armory.

This week is a good time to buy a 1938 FORD V-8

NOW that National Used Car Exchange Week has reduced dealers' used car stocks, this is an opportune time to buy the new 1938 Ford V-8 you have been wanting. There are three excellent reasons for acting now.

First, the ability and desire of your Ford dealer to accept additional cars in trade — now.

Second, the fact that spring arrives officially next week, and it's a real thrill to meet it with a new car.

Third, the 1938 Ford V-8 itself. It is a great value at its present low price—and the value seems even greater when you learn the exceptional amount of equipment included in the advertised price.

The big 85-hp. De Luxe Ford V-8 offers a new standard of luxury at a low price. The newly styled Standard Ford V-8, even lower in price, is available with either engine size. With the 60-hp. V-8 engine it is "Public Economy No. 1" — owners are reporting 22 to 27 miles per gallon.

You are invited to see your Ford dealer this week for an appraisal on your present car — and a chance to drive the Quality Car in the Low-price Field.

Ford

The Metropolitan is a mutual organization. Its assets are held for the benefit of its policyholders, and any divisible surplus is returned to its policyholders in the form of dividends.

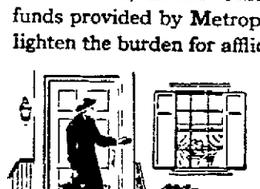
The Human Side—for 1937

IF WE WERE to let the figures above describe the Metropolitan's activities last year, the story would be far from complete—for there is a HUMAN side of the ledger, too.

Policyholders and beneficiaries received from Metropolitan in 1937 almost $526,000,000—much of it in an hour of genuine need.

Death claims were paid on 6,107 policies in force less than three months, and on 18,562 policies in force less than one year—dramatic proof of the value of life insurance.

One could scarcely name a catastrophe which took human lives, in the United States or Canada, where funds provided by Metropolitan policies had not helped lighten the burden for afflicted families.



Each day, visiting nurses representing the Metropolitan ministered to persons insured under Industrial, Intermediate, and Group policies who were in need of skilled care. These nurses made 3,766,240 calls during the year.

Every half second during 1937, a Metropolitan booklet, containing useful health information, was placed in somebody's hands.

Each working day throughout the year, new Metropolitan investments went into communities in various parts of the United States and Canada. These investments helped to create a demand for goods, aid realty values, give employment, and serve other modern social and economic needs.

There is more we would like to tell you about our 1937 Report. This is contained in a booklet entitled, "The Human Side of the Ledger," which we shall be glad to send to you upon request.

SOCIETY & CLUBS

Unusual Details Mark Early Spring Costumes

Smart details are being used more and more this spring to pep up the new suits. Flowers, lapel jewelry, zipper closings, braids, buttons and what-not are used for trimming Notice the details of the two suits pictured above At the left is a lace tweed that combines navy blue and white for a gray effect. The dress has a front zipper fastening. The three-tired packet is lined with navy blue silk taffeta. The flowers that decorate the shoulder are white pique. The mush-room brimmed hat of wine-colored toyo makes a smart color combination Quite military looking is the navy blue town frock, right. It is made of Poiret twill and is slimly fitted. This dress has an intricate trim of red patent leather strips and black cire braid embroidery held with silver metal The modified pillbox hat is of black silk jersey trimmed with red patent leather to tie it up with the dress.

Federation To Present Travel Lecture Here Friday Morning

"A PASSPORT and Two Eyes" is the subject for the lecture which will be given at the Ohio Theater Friday morning by V. C. Buckley under the auspices of the Mansfield Federation of Women. Mr. Buckley is the last speaker to be presented this season and he will give a travel talk.

Buckley is a noted author and world traveler having received his education at Eton and Cambridge and then gone into the shipping business. He set out for a world tour and later became interested in real estate and politics in England

It has been stated that through his many interesting and influential connections in all parts of the world, Mr. Buckley has ben able in most places to stay as a guest in private homes ond this has enabled him to secure an inside knowledge of the various places he has visited, which is so often denied the ordinary traveler.

Speaking at the theater at 11 a. m., the lecturer will be entertained at a luncheon at the Women's Club at 12.30 p. m.

The social affairs committee, headed by Mrs. Lester Redding, is in charge of arrangements Mrs. Stanley Schiller and Mrs G. Victor Smith are assisting. Reservations for the luncheon must be phoned to the club by Thursday evening, Mrs. Redding announced.

MISS DOROTHY EAKIN ENGAGED TO DR. WOOD

Unrequited Love Makes Problem

By VIRGINIA LEE

PETER G.'s problem is one with which hundred's of young men will sympathize. He is in love, of course, and the girl doesn't care for him as he does for her, and thinks they had better not see each other under the circumstances.

Peter goes with other girls, but there is no one like Her. He would gladly wait for her if he were sure he would get her in the end, but it all seems hopeless to him right now. I mustn't tell him to give her up, whatever advice I offer.

All right, Peter, stick to her, but continue to go out with other girls and occupy your mind as much as you possibly can with other things—plans for improving your position, fun with pals, sports, maybe. She is very young, you know, and if she goes with other boys and is left perfectly free, she may turn to you later and find she loves you. It does seem to me, however, that she should give such a sweet, faithful lover a date now and then just to encourage him. I agree with you that it is pretty tough to wait and hope and not have any idea whether you will get your desire in the end. If you won't consider putting her out of your life, that is all I can advise, however.

Another reader has written her opinion on the problem of young people of different religions marrying. Following is her letter:

"DEAR MISS LEE: I read your column with interest. As a rule, your solutions concur with mine, but not always. I believe I know a better answer to the religious differences-happy marriage question than any I have read in yours and other columns, if we limit the differences to Christian religion.

"First, both persons must try hard to lay aside all preconceived ideas and prejudices about religion. Then, with clear, unbiased minds, open their New Testaments and read what it says and take no one's opinions on the matter. (They both already believe the Bible as the revealed word and will of God.)

"In reading they note its dignified simplicity, its lack of prescribed forms of worship, and that authority is in One, Jesus Christ In the Gospels, the first four books, they will read the biography of Jesus. In the one book of church history, 'The Acts of the Apostles', they read of the original church. The 21 books following, called 'Epistles', tell how to develop Christian character and rules of church government. How many sects were found in this reading? None, for they were all just plain Christians. There is quiet, unifying power in following the Scripture pattern, and both persons should feel conscience free to worship God's way. It takes courage in some cases, but it works."

Pardon me for cutting your letter somewhat. I had room for only so much. And thank you.

* * *

T. M: I think your girl friend's boy friend doesn't care very much for her. He wouldn't dare keep her guessing and breaking dates if he did. He would be too afraid she would never give him another. Suppose your girl friend absolutely refuses to date him any more; then if he cares anything at all for her he will show it. Tell her to do this and then keep him guessing for a long time, going out with other boys until he begs and begs for another chance.

HOROSCOPE

For Tuesday, March 15

A DAY of surprising and peculiar developments in the business and private lives is forecast from the major planetary aspects. Intrigue and mysteries hold sway, with a rather spectacular or sensational twist of events.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may expect a very surprising and mysterious year, with intrigue, plots and schemes. All sorts of undercover experiences may be looked for. Sudden and baffling situations call for sound judgment and practical management.

A child born on this day may have a rather difficult nature to understand, as it may lean toward the singular, mystical, the unusual in all directions. It may have a keen imagination and may be idealistic and emotional.

My Neighbor Says:

The best way to clean a white enamel bath is to put a little turpentine in a saucer, get small cloth and rub the bath all over with the turpentine, then scrub well with soap and warm water No matter how dirty the bath is the dirt will disappear like magic.

If you like the flavor of butter in vegetables, stir it into the cooked vegetables just before they are served rather than while cooking. The flavor thus imparted is more pronounced.

It is always advisable to chill a rolled cookie dough, as chilling makes the mixture firm and easy to roll without the addition of extra flour.

Climbing rose bushes should never be pruned until after they have blossomed; bush roses may be pruned after all danger of killing frost has passed.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

The sedative Miss Whitlock had given me proved itself to be most effective. I very nearly "slept the clock around," and when I awakened I found a darkened room with opened windows and closed doors and an empty bed beside me. I could visualize Mary stealing noiselessly out so that she would not disturb me, and I knew that she and Miss Whitlock must be talking in muted tones in the living room, hoping that my sleep might be prolonged to the last possible moment.

For a few seconds I lay reveling in the sheer physical luxury of a comfortable bed, a rested body and relaxed nerves. Then the recollection of the scene of the night before swept over me, and with a nervous yearning for action of any kind—anything save lying still and thinking—I sprang out of bed. Donning dressing gown and slippers, I went into the living room where I found Mary and Miss Whitlock cozily breakfasting at a table drawn up to the big sun-lit bay window.

"Will you cast an eyeful on what's just drifted in?" Mary caroled, as she sprang from her chair and dashed over toward me. Miss Whitlock, who was seated with her back to my bedroom door, also rose with a cordial "good morning," as Mary tempestuously embraced me.

"We didn't know what time you'd waken," Miss Whitlock said apologetically, "so we went ahead and had breakfast."

"Which was what you should have done," I said, and Mary chuckled.

"And as I know that dear Papa Veritzen is footing the bills, I ordered everything I could think of for Miss Whitlock and me, and I'll think up a few extras for you. Just give me your breakfast order, and I'll see that you have it as soon as you shower and dress."

"I'm not a bit hungry, Mary," I protested. "Grapefruit juice, coffee and one slice of toast are all I can manage."

"Okay," she said with suspicious promptness and went into the bedroom Miss Whitlock had occupied, which also had a telephone. She closed the door after her, and I was sure that she was augmenting my modest order with some choice of her own which she thought I might relish.

"Is there anything I can do for you?" Miss Whitlock asked, and I realized that though tactfully she was making her inquiry casuel, ignoring the hectic happenings of the night before, in reality she was concerned over my possible nervous reaction to the occurrence which had annoyed me.

I must not let either Mary or Miss Whitlock guess how deeply I was disturbed by the crass incident of the preceding evening. That was the conviction, born of self-respect and outraged pride, which was borne in upon me as I saw the nurse's camouflaged solicitude, and it enabled me to make my voice as casual as hers had appeared.

"Thank you, not a thing except that you finish your breakfast," I said with a gaiety that I hoped did not sound as forced as I felt it to be.

"I am perfectly all right this morning," I fibbed determinedly. 'Indeed, I am feeling unusually fit, or shall be when I have had my shower and breakfast. So please finish your own meal with a clear conscience and see that Mary has more breakfast also."

"I'll attend to everything," she said smiling, but gave no hint as to whether they had finished breakfast It was the trained nurse's cliche of never admitting anything, but I knew there was also a desire to save me chagrin at having interrupted their breakfast. So with a warm feeling at my heart because of her thoughtfulness, I prepared to shower and dress, keeping resolutely before me the while the resolution to ignore the happening of the night before and not to believe Dicky was connected with it, unless—an ugly little doubt raised its head—he, himself, should attempt to explain it.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

START OUT RIGHT

IF YOU GET off on the wrong foot, you are out of luck in many activities of life. Bridge is no exception. Take a good look at all of your assets before you play to the opening trick. Your decision at that time may determine your entire fate. Study especially the matter of entries into the dummy, if it is a weak holding and you are in a no trump game contract. The creating of one extra chance to get the lead over there across the table may be possible on the first trick and at no other time. If you fumble it, your hopes may go up in smoke.

(Dealer: East. Both sides vulnerable.)

After a pass by East, South started the bidding on this deal with 2-No Trump and North took the contract to 3-No Trump.

The heart 4 was West's opening lead, on which the 7 was played from dummy and the A by East. Without stopping to consider what the play might cost him, South played the 6. He ducked the second round and won the third round of hearts with the K. With two spade winners, two clubs and one heart, four diamond tricks were necessary to make game. A spade to the K provided one chance to finesse diamonds, but there was no possible way to make another try.

On the very first trick the declarer had his chance and missed it As East played the A of hearts, it was evident the Q was in the West hand, so South should have placed the K on the A, the heart J later providing an entry to dummy.

Tomorrow's Problem.

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

How should South play for his contract of 5-Clubs, the original lead having been the diamond K?

Household Hints

By MRS. MARY MORTON

Menu Hint.

Tomato Juice Cocktail Crackers
Buttered Buns
Broiled Hamburgers
Sliced Spanish Onions
Creamed Potatoes
Pickles Olives Pickled Pears
Celery Lettuce
Ice Cream Cake Coffee
Candy Salted Nuts

This is a menu I used when I entertained six people I know quite well for an informal dinner. The crackers I served with the tomato juice I warmed before serving so that they were crisp. The rolls were also warmed and buttered, and each person made his or her own hamburger with whatever ingredients they preferred. I had mustard too, for those who like it with hamburgers. I'm suggesting this menu because it "went over big," and it is easy on the hostess who does her own cooking. One lot of meat patties were broiled while the buns were warmed and the potatoes browned in the oven, then while we were eating the first, the second helpings were broiling. I forgot to say I also had jam on the table. The lettuce and onions were, of course, all ready to be used in the sandwiches. I did not serve tomato with the meat and buns as the fresh ones are expensive at this time of year, and we had the tomato juice as first course. I made a cake for the dessert and also served some of the Christmas fruit cake.

Today's Recipe.

PRESTO CAKE — Melt one-fourth cup butter or oleomargarine in a measuring cup. While it is melting sift one and one-half cups flour, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one teaspoon baking powder, one-half teaspoon soda, if you use sour milk, otherwise two teaspoons baking powder and no soda; one cup sugar. Sift dry ingredients into mixing bowl, make a hole in the center and into this pour the melted butter, on top of which you have dropped an unbeaten egg and milk to fill the cup, either sweet or sour. Mix together, flavor with teaspoon of vanilla, lemon or almond extract. Bake in shallow loaf or layers and frost with butter frosting.

THEATER

IN case you've wondered, Kay Francis and her German baron will live in these United States. He has lived in this country for 16 years and has taken out first naturalization papers. He's interested in aviation. Kay says the marriage won't take place until after her Warner Brothers contract is up, probably in September . . . Friends are predicting a reconciliation between Fay Wray and John Monk Saunders . . . Shirley Temple attended the preview of her picture "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm", which all reviewers say is her best, and broke all records by keeping awake throughout the show . . .

Farmer Montgomery.

Robert Montgomery, who with Virginia Bruce is starred in "The First 100 Years," is one Hollywood player who has provided for his future, and if the fickle public turns thumbs down on the screen's No. 1 playboy, or he gets mad at his boss, he will still be able to live comfortably. Montgomery owns a sizeable farm in Putnam county, New York, and spends his vacations there so that he can learn the practical side of farming for himself. His motion picture work is merely a means to an end—that of retiring to his farm, to live in comparative comfort for the rest of his life. In his new picture, "First 100 Years," he and Virginia Bruce depict a marital existence, with Warren William, Binnie Barnes and Alan Dinehart aiding and abetting one side or another. The picture is current at the Madison.

Murder In Small Town.

Police Lieutenant Jack Holt is so prominent in gang-busting activities, that his envious chief transfers him to a small suburban town, and a newspaper man is sent to the town at the same time. Into the town where nothing ever happens there suddenly appears a pretty girl with a valuable necklace, and before the story ends, there have been two murders, a strange will read, a hidden treasure revealed and a romance that ends happily. Jack Holt plays the police officers and Craig Reynolds the newspaper man, with Beverly Roberts as the girl. "Making The Headlines" is one of the Majestic features and is augmented with "Mr. Dodds Takes The Air" starring Kenny Baker.

Comedy of Errors.

A cast of distinguished players—Leslie Howard, Bette Davis and Olivia de Havilland—are seen in the rollicking comedy "It's Love I'm After" which opens at the Ritz Tuesday for three days. Howard in the role of a great matinee idol, and Miss Davis as his leading lady alternately loving and hating each other, and Miss de Havilland as the other girl in the trio, have comedy scenes that border on slap stick. Howard finds himself in the postion of having to make Miss de Havilland fall out of love with him, but the more he tries the deeper in the mire he gets. The farcical complications pile up to a roaring climax. The second feature is Rex Beach's "The Barrier" with Leo Carrillo, Jean Parker and James Ellison.

Try Grilling For Special Luncheon

By IRENE OBERLIN
Home Service Department Ohio Public Service Company.

A menu for a grilled luncheon may have some appeal for you this week. If you have an electric roaster with grill—this menu could be served buffet style, piping hot or if you prefer to broil in your range it could be served attractively on one large tray.

Asparagus Ham Rolls
Sweet Potatoes in Orange Cups
Broiled Mushrooms
Grilled Cauliflower

Cook four large sweet potatoes until tender in salted water.

If using fresh asparagus, cook until tender or if canned asparagus is used heat in its own liquid.

Separate the cauliflower into flowerets and cook for about 15 minutes in salted water.

Cut two oranges in halves, squeeze out the juice and reserve—remove the membrane and fence the edges with a fluted vegetable cutter.

Peel potatoes, mash, add one tablespoon butter, salt, pepper and enough orange juice to make a soft fluffy mixture. Fill the orange cups brush with melted butter; put a piece of marshmallow on each and place on rack.

Drain asparagus, lay four or five stalks on each slice of ham. Roll, drain and fasten with toth picks. Place on broiler rack—brush with melted butter.

Place mushroom caps on broiler and put butter in each cap. Sprinkle with salt and pepper.

Dip the pieces of cauliflower in melted butter, olive or salad oil, place at the front of broiler rack. The orange cups should be about three inches below the unit when using your broiler in range. Broil about 15 minutes.

When serving, sprinkle cauliflower with paprika; a cheese sauce may be poured over the asparagus-ham rolls if desired.

Luncheon Chowder.

1 ham-shank or picnic shoulder bone.
1 small onion
2 quarts water
1 quart potatoes cut in cubes
3 tablespoons parsley
1 quart milk
4 slices bread (stale)
¼ cup ham drippings

Simmer ham and chopped onion one hour. Remove bone and trim meat, add small pieces to the stock (about 1 quart). Add the potatoes,—half of the parsley and milk—cook until potatoes are tender. Cut bread into small cubes and saute until crisp in hot ham drippings. Sprinkle each serving with a few cubes and the remaining parsley. Makes about 10 servings.

Here is another recipe using ham which can be made from left-over meat.

Ham Timbales.

1 cup bread crumbs
1 cup milk
4 Tbsp butter
1½ cups ham (minced)
1 tsp. onion
1 tsp. prepared mustard
2 Tbsp. minced parsley
2 eggs.
Dash of pepper

Combine crumbs and milk cook until thick and smooth, add butter. Combine ham, pepper, onion, mustard and parsley, add bread crumb mixture. Beat eggs slightly and add to ham mixture Fill the buttered timbale molds two-thirds full; place in pan of water Bake in moderate oven 350 degrees for 25 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Lemon Cream Doughnuts

These new Lemon Cream Doughnuts make a mighty tempting snack—and they're good for breakfast, too!

Lemon-Cream Doughnuts.

6 egg yolks
1 cup sugar
2 tbsp lemon juice plus irradiated evaporated milk to make 1 cup
1 tsp grated lemon rind
4½ cups cake flour, or 4 cups family flour
1½ tsp. soda
1½ tsp cream of tartar
1½ tsp. salt
½ tsp nutmeg

Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored Gradually add the sugar, beating while adding Add the irradiated evaporated milk and lemon rind Sift the dry ingredients together and add them to the first mixture Place in the refrigerator for 5 hours Roll out one-fourth inch thick and cut Fry in deep fat (365 F.) Yield 3½ dozen doughnuts 2½ inches in diameter

In the preparation of Lemon-Cream Doughnuts lemon juice serves a double purpose It acidifies the undiluted irradiated evaporated milk to provide the culinary attributes of sour cream richness, fine texture and tenderness—and at the same time contributes appealing flavor

Get a large tray shallow box or a small basket and keep all your cleaning utensils in it—soap, powder, rags, brushes, etc You'll always have them together and can carry them about the house easily for any cleaning job

SPIRIT OF ST. PATRICK'S MAY BE FOUND IN UNUSUAL MENUS

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
(AP Feature Service Writer)

Giving a St. Patrick's luncheon? Make it informal so you can do all the work yourself.

At least two days beforehand think out all your plans and the menu and get it all down on paper—food supplies, serving hints, table equipment and decorations. Seat your guests, too, on paper.

Here's a menu for a party of eight that allows you to prepare ahead of time and requires a minimum of preparation and serving.

St. Patrick's Day Luncheon.

Soup Supreme Toast Shamrocks
Green Olives Tuna Salad
Shamrock Rolls
Apricot Preserves Coffee
St. Patrick's Dessert
Green and White Mints
Candied Orange Strings

For the soup, mix two cups of canned cream of asparagus soup, one cup of canned cream of mushroom and one cup of celery soup. Add half a cup of cream, a fourth of a teaspoon of salt and an eighth of a teaspoon of paprika. Heat until steaming Serve in cups, topping each cupful with whipped cream and chopped parsley.

Cut slices of bread into shamrock designs, toast them to a nice brown, spread them with a mixture of grated cheese and soft butter and serve hot

It will take a pound and a half of canned tuna for the salad. The day before the luncheon, cover the tuna with boiling water. After ten minutes drain and chill it You'll find it tastes like chicken

Now flake the tuna or cut it into half-inch cubes. Add one and a half cups of diced celery, a fourth of a cup each of chopped sweet pickles and green peppers. Season with a tablespoon of lemon juice, salt and paprika. Add a fourth of a cup of French dressing and chill the mixture.

For serving, mix half a cup of mayonnaise with the rest of the ingredients and roughly pile portions onto cups of crisp lettuce. Top with mayonnaise and garnish with pepper or pickle shamrocks and slices of egg.

You might serve a variety of ice-box rolls. Fix the dough the day before. Chill it over night and make up the rolls the first thing in the morning. They'll be ready to bake in time for luncheon.

Don't forget, either, to make butter balls a day early.

If you want to try a homemade dessert here are some suggestions:

Hollow a sponge or angel food cake and fill it with orange sherbet just before serving.

Make a jelly roll filled with mint pineapple conserve that's been tinted green. Spread it with white frosting.

Serve a frozen fruit sherbet with assorted orange and white drop cakes covered with green icing.

Cover vanilla ice cream with mint sauce and surround your sundaes with shamrock-shaped cookies.

Vanilla Ice Cream.

⅔ cup sweetened condensed milk
½ cup water
1½ teaspoons vanilla
1 cup whipping cream

Blend sweetened condensed milk, water and vanilla. Chill Whip cream to a custard consistency and fold into chilled mixture. Pour into freezing pans of automatic refrigerator. Place in freezing unit. When mixture is about half frozen remove it and beat until it is smooth but not melted. Replace and freeze for serving. Serves six

Kitchen Hints

Cocktail tray suggestions: squares of dill pickles and cheese alternated on wooden picks; Roqueford cheese balls mixed with catsup and placed on small crackers; liverwurst creamed with butter and spread on buttered toast points; crabmeat mixed with chopped pickles and spread on buttered white bread fingers; corned beef cubes spread with salad dressing and speared on wooden skewers; slices of browned cocktail sausages alternated with pickle squares and sliced pimiento stuffed olives on wooden picks.

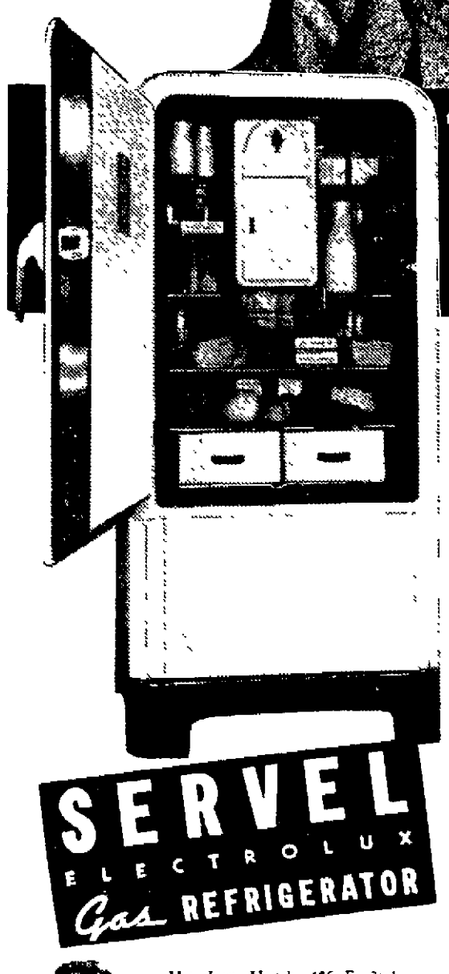
"There Was No Question What Our Next Refrigerator Would Be"

"We Chose GAS Refrigeration"



SERVEL ELECTROLUX Gas REFRIGERATOR

The wide acceptance of a refrigerator that is silent and freezes without any moving parts to wear out has prompted thousands of families to say, "Our next refrigerator will be a gas refrigerator." The beautiful 1938 Servel Electrolux has clinched this decision for a fast increasing number of families who are buying this year.

Gas refrigeration saves on your nerves because it is silent. It saves on your budget because it operates for less than two cents a day on high grade gas, and there are no moving parts in the freezing system to wear out.

Visit The Gas Company or request that our representative call at your home to tell you more about the refrigerator you hear so much about — but never hear. Easy payments amount to only a few cents a day.

Mrs Lucy Hough, 486 E 2nd St Chillicothe, Ohio says—
"Owned gas refrigerator two years and in all my experience it never cost over 40 cents a month to operate Like the silence of noise."

Norma G Spitzer, 233 W Hardin St, Findlay, Ohio, says—
"To say I'm pleased with my [illegible] putting it mildly Cost [illegible] than operating previous [illegible] of refrigeration Easy terms and silence are appreciated

Quick Passage of Billion Dollar Naval Bill Expected

HOUSE LEADER SEES MEASURE PASS EASILY

Congress, Viewing Crisis In Europe, Favorable Toward Preparedness Program.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON — With assurances that preparedness in a world torn by conflict means pace for this nation, administration leaders today started the billion-dollar naval expansion bill through congress.

Brushing aside charges that rearmament may involve the United States in another war, the leaders placed the bill before a house membership tense with watching the rapid-fire developments of a fresh European crisis and the unabated warfare in the Far East.

Debate For Week.

Debate in the lower chamber, scheduled to last a week, promised a complete airing of the international situation and this government's relations with other powers. Oddly enough, it coincided with mobilization of the fleet in San Diego today for the 1938 war games in the Pacific.

Speaker Bankhead, while terming rearmament "regrettable," flatly predicted quick house approval of the expansion measure "with votes to spare."

"The bill will be passed by the house by a substantial majority and without any changes of consequence," he declared. "I believe most Democratic and Republican members alike are convinced that if this country is to maintain peace, we must match the naval building of the other powers."

Calling for a horizontal increase of 20 per cent over treaty limits in the authorized strength of the navy, the measure would provide for the construction of 46 additional fighting craft, including three new battleships; 22 auxiliary vessels; 950 more planes, a $3,000,000 dirigible to replace the de-commissioned Los Angeles; and necessary overhauling and modernization of all navy yards required for the increased building.

Foes Map Fight.

A coalition of Democrats, Farm-Laborites, Progressives and a handful of Republicans mapped plans to fight the bill to the bitter end.

Although leaders of the opposition bloc privately admitted their following numbered less than a third of the house membership, they pinned their hopes on arousing sufficient sentiment against the bill that it might meet defeat in the senate, where more formidable foes await it.

Whitney, Pleading Guilty, Faces Long Prison Sentence

NEW YORK — (U.P.) — Richard Whitney, former president of the New York stock exchange, pleaded guilty today to an indictment charging him with larceny of a $105,000 family trust fund.

The specified charge—first degree grand larceny—carries a possible maximum sentence of five to ten years in prison.

Whitney, senior partner in the bankrupt brokerage firm of Richard Whitney and company, had been expected to ask through his attorney for a week's postponement before pleading guilty to the indictment obtained by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey.

The indictment accused him of stealing securities from a trust fund set up under the will of his father-in-law, George Sheldon, for several beneficiaries, including Whitney's wife. Whitney took these securities and pledged them to a bank for a loan.

DIES IN ASHLAND

Delavan Feazel, Lifelong Resident of Loudonville, Stricken at 75.

LOUDONVILLE—Delavan Feazel, 75, lifelong resident of Loudonville, died in Samaritan hospital, Ashland, at 7 a. m. Sunday, following an illness of a month.

His wife preceded him in death three years ago. Surviving are two half brothers, Amos Mack of Mansfield, and C. E. Mack of Big Prairie. Brief funeral services will be held at the T. B. Gilbert funeral home at 2 p. m. Tuesday, followed by services at the Zion Lutheran church, with Rev. J. H. Kuhlman officiating. Burial will be in Loudonville cemetery.

KILLBUCK WOMAN DIES

KILLBUCK—Miss Edith Lowe, 33, daughter of Sherman Lowe, died at the family home today after a lingering illness. Survivors besides the father are two sisters, Mrs. Thomas Galion and Mrs. Everett Wright of Killbuck, and a brother, Ellis, of Coshocton. Services will be held at the Church of Christ at 2 p. m. Wednesday with Rev. O. R. Clary officiating. Burial will be in the Killbuck cemetery.

Jury to Decide On Penalty for Ross Killer

Up and Down THE STREET

Judging from the number of telephone calls received at the News-Journal office over the week-end, Mansfield has become suddenly basketball conscious as the result of the brilliant showing of the Mansfield high school Tygers in the district tournament at Sandusky. No record was kept of the number of calls, but they started early Saturday evening and continued until morning. Mansfield defeated Sandusky, 26-23, in the district finals, winning the right to compete in the state tournament at Columbus beginning Thursday.

William McBride, 107 South Foster street, is off Tommy Farr for good. He lost another bet on the British fighter when Farr was beaten by Max Baer, and he will have to pay off tonight. The bet calls for McBride to push Melvin Harner, his neighbor, in a wheelbarrow up Foster street and back from Park avenue east to Home avenue. The bet was supposed to have been paid right after the fight, but the passenger was called away at the last minute. The big push tonight is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

Probate court workers were pondering today whether it was fate or just pure luck that saved them from a lot of head bumps. A section of plaster on the ceiling of the probate office let go and crashed to the floor sometime yesterday, and a little prodding by Custodian Anton Tony Moritz brought another section of loose plaster to the floor. The clerks were thankful that Sunday was a holiday and that the plaster didn't wait a day longer before falling around their desks.

For the second time since assuming office Jan. 1, Mayor Claude M. Hunter missed a chance to officiate at a wedding ceremony Saturday. While the mayor was attending a relief meeting at the courthouse, a couple from Weller township called at the city building to be married. Asked if they couldn't stop back Monday, the couple explained that they wanted to go on their honeymoon Sunday, so they were referred to a nearby minister who performed the ceremony.

DEATH NEARS

Russia's Firing Squads to Take Lives of 18 Today.

MOSCOW—(U.P.)—An announcement that 18 of 21 prominent Communists tried together on charges of plotting the overthrow of the government and the assassination of its leaders, had been executed by firing squads was expected today.

The three whose lives were spared were given long prison terms yesterday when their colleagues were condemned. They were Sergei A. Bessonov, former counselor of the Soviet embassy in Berlin, sentenced to 15 years; Christian Rakovsky, former ambassador to Britain and France, 20 years; and Dr. D. D. Pletnev, a famous heart specialist, 25 years.

Among those to die were Henry Yagods, former head of the Soviet secret police; Alexis I. Rykov, former premier of Russia; and Gregory T. Grinko, premier of the Ukraine.

FINDS WIFE DEAD IN ROCKING CHAIR

Mrs. Minnie Whisler, Loudonville, Victim of Heart Attack.

LOUDONVILLE—Frank Whisler walked into the living room of his home here Saturday night to find his wife, Minnie, 72, dead in a rocking chair. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Mrs. Whisler, who was 72, had been a lifelong resident of Loudonville, and is survived by a brother, Frank Blubaugh of Lima, and two sisters, Mrs. Amy Toland of Forest, O., and Mrs. Mary Snyder of Findlay, in addition to her husband.

Funeral services will be held at St. Peter's chapel at 9 a. m. Wednesday, followed by brief services at the T. B. Gilbert funeral home. Burial will be in St. Peter's cemetery.

SHAMBAUGH RITES TUESDAY

PERRYSVILLE — Funeral services for Mont Harlan Shambaugh, 59, a lifelong resident of Perrysville, who died unexpectedly in Oakdale, Pa., Saturday, will be held at the home at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday with Rev. Lena Jennings, assisted by Rev. George H. Schrack, officiating. Burial will be in the Greenlawn cemetery.

MRS. T. J. HANLEY TAKEN BY DEATH

Wife of Milling Company Head Succumbs at Home; Funeral Wednesday Morning.

Mrs. Mary M. Hanley, 69, wife of T. J. Hanley, president of the Hanley Milling company, died at the family home, 171 West First street, shortly before noon today after an illness of several years.

Mrs. Hanley came to Mansfield from Coshocton in 1929 with her husband two years after he had purchased the milling company. She was born in Cresson, Pa., and had lived in Coshocton for 40 years.

Two years ago Mr. and Mrs. Hanley celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

Surviving are her husband; two sons, Col. T. J. Hanley, jr., commander of Mitchell Field, Long Island, and Jerome O. Hanley of Mansfield; three daughters, Veronica M. Hanley of Mansfield, Mrs. Ramey S. Curtis of Columbus and Sister Margaret Ann of Greensburg, Pa., and a brother, Michael J. O'Connor of Columbus.

Mrs. Hanley was a member of St. Peter's Catholic church.

Funeral services will be held at St. Peter's church at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday with Rev. R. C. Goebel, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the Mansfield Catholic cemetery.

BAKERY DRIVER LOSES LEFT ARM AS TRUCK CRASHES INTO DITCH

Four persons were injured, one seriously, in two traffic accidents on Richland county highways over the week-end while elsewhere in the state at least five persons lost their lives.

Robert Logan, 21, rear of 113 East Fourth street, driver for the Nickels bakery, suffered the loss of his left arm when his truck left the highway and piled up in a ditch on route 13, south of Greenwich Saturday night.

State Highway Patrolman R. L. Doebel, who investigated the accident said one of the front brakes on the truck apparently locked, throwing the truck to the left of the highway into the ditch.

Logan, he said, crawled from the wreckage with a badly mangled arm, fashioned a tourniquet and walked a quarter of a mile to a farm house where he collapsed. He was brought to the General Hospital where the arm was amputated between the elbow and shoulder. His condition was reported as "good" today.

Three persons were treated at the General hospital for injuries substained when a car driven by Emerson Radcliffe, 27, of Sheffield Lake village Lorain county, skidded and turned over on the Ashland hill early Sunday morning.

Emerson suffered head lacerations while his two passengers, Judith Horvath, 23, Cleveland, suffered a sprained ankle and Wilbur Ebach, 32, also of Sheffield Lake, sustained cuts and bruises about the head.

GAIN SUPPORT

Profits Tax Repeal Advocates Cheered by New Backing.

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Demands for repeal of the corporate undistributed profits tax and heavier burdens on the "little fellow" in the income tax structure gained wide support in the senate today as its finance committee began wrestling with the house bill.

Treasury and committee tax experts joined in explaining the house bill behind closed doors. Many senators already had their minds made up that it does not go far enough toward spreading the tax burden more equitably.

Chairman Pat Harrison (D) of Mississippi, of the finance committee, said he expected the executive sessions would be completed by Wednesday.

OHIO RISING

River Surges Upward After 2-Inch Rain in 24 Hours.

EAST LIVERPOOL — (U.P.) — An inch of rainfall during the last 24 hours started a rise of two-tenths of a foot an hour in the Ohio river here today.

Lockmen at dam No. 8 reported a stage of 13.6 feet at 9 a. m. but predicted a steady climb. No flood warning was issued.

FEDERAL PANEL TO HEAR STORY OF KIDNAPING

Guilty Plea Leaves Sentence of Death or Prison Up to Jurors; 93 to Testify.

CHICAGO—(U.P.)—John Henry Seadlund faced trial today by a federal jury which will determine his penalty—death or a prison term— for the kidnaping of Charles S. Ross, 72, retired greeting card manufacturer.

Seadlund already has pleaded guilty. New federal legislation requires that jury must fix the penalty in capital crimes.

Attorneys Floyd E. Thompson and Frederic Burnham, jr., planned to challenge the procedure. They said they would object to impaneling of the jury on the ground that under the Lindbergh kidnaping law there is no authority for such a body when the defendant has plead guilty and that the court should fix the punishment. They intend, they said, to carry the fight to the supreme court if Seadlund is sentenced to die.

Demands Death.

U. S. District Attorney Michael L. Igoe said he would demand the death penalty.

Ninety-three witnesses, 64 of them G-men who helped trail Seadlund for nearly three months after he and James Atwood Gray, young Kentuckian, abducted Ross, were subpoenaed for the trial. They also included Ross' widow, Mae, George J. Kukovac, motorcycle messenger who delivered the ransom to Seadlund and Edmund S. Cumming, jr., Ross' attorney, who arranged payment of the money. Seadlund confessed to G-men that he killed Ross and Gray in a snow-covered dugout near Spooner, Wis., two days after he collected $50,000 ransom from Mrs. Ross. He faced trial, however, only on the kidnaping charge.

Ross was kidnaped the night of Sept. 25, 12 miles west of Chicago, while returning to his home after having dined with his former secretary, Mrs. Florence Freihage. Seadlund, captured in California, led G-men to the northern woods dugout where he had buried the bodies of Ross and Gray.

CAPONE LOSES IN HIGH COURT

Ex-Gang Chief Turned Down In Appeal On Jail Term.

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Al Capone, the nation's original public enemy No. 1, who recently suffered a mental breakdown in Alcatraz prison, today lost an appeal to the supreme court in an effort to cut a year off his sentence.

Capone, appealing from the seventh circuit court, maintained that his conviction and sentence for the one year period, out of a total of 11 years, was invalid.

G-MEN ACTIVE

Take Charge of Hunt For Levine Boy, Missing Two Weeks.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y.—(INS)—Revelation that federal agents and local police have taken active charge of the Peter Levine kidnaping case was made today by the lad's father, Murray Levine.

The 12-year-old boy vanished more than two weeks ago and until today, at the behest of the father, police and g-men had maintained a hands-off attitude while the father sought vainly to negotiate with the apparent abductors of his son.

The Great Game of Politics

—By FRANK R. KENT

Unfair To Mr. Farley.

IT APPEARS a little unfair that sources which usually reflect White House opinion should regard with unfriendly eyes the publication this summer of a series of autobiographical articles written by Mr. Farley for a magazine and later to be issued as a book.

YET SUCH seems the fact. From several quarters comments of a disparaging nature upon the postmaster general's prospective literary venture have been made. While this is unfair, there is a reason for it. Certainly Farley, though he has much less salable stuff, has as much right to sell his articles while he is in the cabinet as Mr. Roosevelt has to sell his while he is in the White House. Certainly, too, these is less impropriety and bad taste involved. The charge of commercialization of his office cannot lie nearly as heavily against the postmaster general as against the president and his family.

NOR CAN the point made by Mr. Walter Lippmann, that a president's public papers do not belong to him but to the nation, and cannot decently be sold, apply to Farley. There is the further fact that Farley is relatively a poor man and Mr. Roosevelt is not. Of none of this is there any denial Nevertheless, the Farley articles are regarded in the higher New Deal circles as "unfortunate" in that they are calculated to keep alive public interest in the financial ventures of the president and members of his family for which their White House connection is the basic asset and upon which they have no desire to focus public attention.

THE FACT is that politicians agree that the widespread publicity recently given the family's enormouh earnings has created a very unfavorable feeling. Some assert that more than anything that has hapuened since the court fight, the picture conveyed to the people of the whole Roosevelt family, in the midst of a depression, busily engaged in "feathering its nest," has done Mr. Roosevelt damage. Certainly it has put the White House on the defensive and the propaganda department, left with no answer, studiously ignores the subject. The president's secretary, that none of the revenue from the sale to newspapers and magazines will go into his own pocket has not, in the judgment of many, been an adequate answer. For one thing, it makes no mention of the profits from the books which presumably will go into his pockets; for another, it was so vague about the "worthy public purpose" to which the newspaper proceeds were to be devoted as to promote the notion that this "worthy public purpose" was a thought that occurred after the public criticism and not before. It has not yet been identified.

NOT even reiteration in Mrs. Roosevelt's syndicated column about the proceeds of her lectures and radio talks going to charity stilled the adverse comment which blazed out again the other day when the president, at a press conference, urged continued publicity for the salaries of business men getting more than $15,000 and his mention of the huge bonus paid a steel executive some years ago. At once the natural Republican reaction was to bring up the matter of his son James' insurance income, from which he is said to have accumulated a fortune of more than $500,000 in the last four years and to be now deriving $150,00 annually, and to ask the question—"What about publicity for Jimmie?"

IT IS reported that consideration is being given at the White House to the framing of a statement on the whole subject of the family finances. The difficulty seems to be to find one which will be adequate, convincing or which will not put the president in position of having been prodded into making it.

MANSFIELD GAINS STATE FINALS FOR FIRST TIME SINCE 1927

Tygers Play Steady Ball To Annex District Crown

Tygers Draw Roger Bacon

Mansfield's foe in the first round of the state basketball tournament will be Cincinnati Roger Bacon. The Tygers will meet the Cincinnati club at 7 p. m. Thursday in the Coliseum at the fairground in Columbus.

The complete drawings for first round games made in Columbus today follow: Thursday—1 p. m., Findlay vs. Akron Buchtel; 2 p. m., New Philadelphia vs. Xenia Central; 3 p. m., Canton McKinley vs. Toledo Woodward; 4 p. m., Hamilton vs. Akron East; 6 p. m., Newark vs. Youngstown East; 7 p. m., Mansfield vs. Cincinnati Roger Bacon; 8 p. m., Akron St. Vincent vs. Marietta; 9 p. m., Bridgeport vs. Bowling Green.

COACHES TO SHOW SKILL

County Mentors Play Westies on Carnival Bill Scheduled Tuesday Night.

The Richland county coaches will have an opportunity to demonstrate the style of basketball they teach Tuesday night at the Senior high gym.

They face the dangerous Westinghouse Electrics at 7 p. m. in the opening affair on the City Class A league cage carnival.

Best Keller News.

The coaches, who in their last appearance drubbed the touted Keller News club of Norwalk, have developed into a high-scoring aggregation, and a real battle is anticipated.

This tilt will inaugurate an interesting three-game program which includes clashes between the crack Yuncker Sports and the Globe Clothiers of Galion, and Bliss college of Columbus and the Elks of the City league. Bliss college and the Elks tangle at 8 o'clock.

In all the games so far, the coaches have piled up impressive scores and it will be interesting to see if Vern Jones' Westies can throttle the fast-breaking attack.

Coaches who will see action Tuesday night are Johnny Reese of Lexington, leading individual scorer; Orville Kibler, of Ontario, Al Fendrich of Madison, Larry Saltis of Adario, Gil Wickart of Lucas, Bill Richards of Plymouth, and Maurice Stearns of Butler.

Plans Strong Lineup.

Against the aggregation Jones plans to use Steve Voelker, Inwood Smith, Bob Shade, Howard Poole, George Bosko, Raymond Friday, George Berry and Chedwiggen.

The price of admission for the carnival will be 10 cents.

Men of Murphy Climax Successful Championship Bid By Trimming Sandusky, 26-23, in Finals; Go to Columbus Thursday.

By OSCAR RUHL, News-Journal Sports Editor.

CHAMPIONS of the eastern section of the northwestern Ohio Class A district, Coach J. Russell Murphy's Tygers of Mansfield high school today looked in the direction of Columbus in their quest for additional basketball laurels.

Victorious over Sandusky, 26 to 23, in the finals of the district elimination on the loser's own floor Saturday, Mansfield advanced to the state classic to get under way in the fairground coliseum in the capital city Thursday.

This year will mark the first time since 1927 that a Mansfield team has been represented in the state tournament.

Whether the current edition of the Tygers will be any more successful than the 1927 quintet, which bowed to Dover in a first round game, remains to be seen, but it might again prove embarrassing to the experts if they failed to give the Men of Murphy some recognition in the pre-tournament reckoning.

Eliminates Favorites.

Probably the most underrated team in the district affair at Sandusky, Mansfield dominated the tournament completely as it took two pre-tournaments favorites in its stride in the march to the throne.

Eliminating Tiffin Columbian, Tiffin Junior Order, Bellevue and Sandusky in that order, the Tygers produced the steadiest game witnessed in the district elimination in many a year.

Playing with the coolness and confidence of a champion, Mansfield completely bewildered its foes with a defense that was virtually impregnable.

When the Tygers eliminated Columbian in a first round game, the experts merely recorded it as an upset.

They were expected to eliminate Junior Order, but not in a fashion so convincing.

Mansfield was expected to bow out of the tournament gracefully in the game with Bellevue, but instead of showing any fear for the Redmen's record, it struck fast and furiously in the semi-final melee to prove its superiority.

Maintain Pose.

The Tygers maintained their gait in the finals Saturday to explode the alleged Sandusky 'jinx."

Sandusky proved troublesome as the score indicates, but Mansfield played better basketball to deserve the victory it gained to avenge a defeat suffered early in the season.

In registering their first district championship since 1929, the Tygers broke down the barrier that had menaced their chances of advancing beyond the preliminary rounds in recent years.

With only two members of the 1936-37 team available, Mansfield's court prospects did not appear illuminating at the start of this campaign.

It was confronted with one of the toughest schedules in history, and while it won only 10 out of seven games during the regular season, it showed constant improvement under the guidance of Coach Murphy and his assistant, Harry Mehock.

Although enjoying only a mediocre season up to the tournament, the Tygers boosted their victory total at Sandusky, and they will go to Columbus Thursday with a record of 14 victories in 21 games.

Change Procedure.

The Tygers changed their procedure in winning the finals Saturday. Instead of falling into their customary let-down in the second period, the Tygers used this quarter to make up a deficit that proved a factor in the triumph.

For the first time in the tournament, Mansfield was unable to get the jump on its opponent in the first period, and victory prospects appeared very discouraging at the first rest period.

Free throws by Tommy Scott, Dave Shelley and Elmer Dials were all that saved Mansfield from a blanking in the initial stanza.

The Blue Streaks got off to a good start on successive goals by Freyensee, and they followed with four tosses from the charity line to hold an 8 to 3 lead going into the second frame.

Apparently undisturbed by the Sandusky spree, the plucky Tygers bounced back in the second period to overtake the Streaks. Dials tied the score 11-all for the second time in the quarter on a rebound and Capt. Johnny Hallabrin followed with a long shot near the end of the half to give the Tygers their first lead. The halfway intermission coming with the Mansfielders holding a 13 to 11 advantage.

Never Trail Again.

Sandusky came back in a wild third period to regain the lead, but Mansfield never trailed again after Dials dented the mesh near the middle of the quarter to put the Tygers on top by a 17 to 15 margin.

Mansfield went into the final chapter holding a 21 to 18 edge and concentrated on the defense as the Streaks sought vainly to rally.

On the offense in th last period, the Tygers stalled to keep the ball away from the Streaks. Hallabrin's short backet provided the only points the Tygers registered in the fourth frame, while the desperate Streaks had to be content with a pair of buckets.

Hallabrin and Scott were particularly outstanding for Mansfield. Ike Smith, who saw some service at a guard, also distinguished himself, especially on the defense.

Hallabrin and Lyons paced the Mansfield scoring with six points apiece. Freyensee obtained three of the six baskets permitted Sandusky and a free throw to lead the losers with seven points. Bryant, mainstay of the Sandusky club, failed to secure a single point.

BILLY SULLIVAN left the St. Louis Browns' training camp, saying he was through with baseball unless the team met his $10,000 salary demand. He was offered $8,000. . . . Andrew Ponzi continued to hold the lead in the world's pocket billiard championships. . . . It was reported that the Buckeye conference has two schools under consideration to take the place of resigned Cincinnati. The schools were not divulged.

The Cincinnati Reds' debut under Manager McKechnie was a 6 to 2 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Mansfield Won State Title In 1909.

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Exclusive of Hamilton and Upper Arlington, there will be five other former state title holders in the state high school cage tournament which starts Thursday.

Former class A winners are: Mansfield, 1909; Findlay, 1912; Marietta, 1914 and Newark, 1936. West Milton snagged the crown in 1910 before there was a class A and class B dividing line.

SPORT CLUB WINS AGAIN

Chalks Up 14th Successive Victory at Expense of Ontario Sohioans.

The undefeated Yuncker Sports today boasted of a string of 14 victories.

Coach Jimmy Breres' men registered their 14th straight win Saturday by defeating Henry's Sohioans, 38 to 26, at Ontario. Staked to four baskets at the start of the game by Al Stickler, the Sports never trailed.

They led 14 to 7 at the end of the first period, 19 to 11 at the half and 25 to 17 going into the final quarter. The closest the Sohioans came to overtaking the Sports was in the last period when they reduced the lead to two points.

The Ontario Ex-Hys defeated the Galion North Electrics, 30 to 29, in the prelim.

Hart, Stratton Top Mat Card

Collide on Program Billed at Armory Thursday.

Frankie Hart, likeable young lightweight from Holland, will return to Mansfield wrestling competition Thursday night in the Armory. He has been signed by the Mansfield Quality Club to meet Walter Stratton of Leetonia, in the main event of a three-bout program.

Hart is one of the cleanest and most scientific grapplers in the business. The contest stacks up as an interesting argument, for Stratton is another clean-limbed performer.

All the nice phrases handed Hart and Stratton do not indicate anything in the nature of a tame bout. These boys are dynamic in their employment of basic holds and each can point to a record that is as colorful as it has been clean.

The men signed will wrastle for two out of three falls with a time limit of an hour and a half.

Win Women's Doubles Title

Meder and Linster Duo Annex Crown on Findlay Lanes.

Mansfield bowlers came out of the Inter-City Women's bowling tournament held in Findlay over the week-end with one championship.

Sophia Meder and Thelma Linster succeeded another Mansfield pair, Mary McMullen and Margaret Baker, as doubles champions. The Meder-Linster duo scored a 1046 total, and the defending champions finished in second place with a 981. Another Mansfield duo, Hilborn and Handwark, finished third with 979.

In the five-women event, the Liederkranz club of Mansfield, defending champion, finished third with an even 2400 total. The Meder Recreation shot a 2075 and the Heilman Grocers came through with a 2041.

Mary McMullen led the Mansfield bowlers in the singles event with a 621 total. Schuster was next high with a 555. Other singles: Hilborn 506, Handwork 473, Baker 494, Meder 509, Linster 474.

RECOGNITION OF NAZI AUSTRIA BY U.S. TO BE SLOW

Nation to Act With Caution, Sees Plebiscite as Possible Deciding Factor.

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— State department officials indicated today that the United States would move slowly and cautiously before granting diplomatic recognition to Germany's annexation of Austria.

The question has not been raised officially—yet. Until formal notice of Austria's union with Germany has been received at the state department no reason exists for official consideration of the matter, it was said.

When such notice is received, it was indicated, all circumstances of the union of the two countries will be studied carefully. It was anticipated that by then the principal European governments, particularly Great Britain and France, will have decided upon their course of action and, while it is not certain that this government's decision would be the same, it was believed that the British-French course would have an important bearing on this country's decision.

Strictly European Crisis.

Officials here consider the German-Austrian events as particularly European — in events in which other European nations are more immediately and directly interested than the United States. This government is indirectly interested through its concern over all matters affecting world peace and the stabilization of international trade.

One question certain to receive serious consideration in arriving at any decision will be whether Germany's annexation of Austria was accomplished by force of arms in contravention of existing treaties.

One of the basic principles of American foreign policy is the refusal to recognize the legality of territory gained that way. Under this policy the United States has refused for six years to recognize Japan's puppet state of Manchukuo. This government also has refused to recognize the legality of Italy's conquest of Ethiopia.

It was pointed out, however, that a technical loop-hole through which recognition of the Austro-German union might be squeezed may be provided in the projected plebiscite by the Austrian people. While considerable doubt exists in official circles here of the likelihood that Austrian voters will be permitted to vote any ticket except that for union of the two countries, the vote itself may be considered officially as justification for recognition of the change.

EX-MANSFIELD RESIDENT DIES

J. A. Barrell, Former Loan Company Manager Here, Dies.

K. R. Cartnal, manager of the Interstate Loan company, will go to McConnellsville tomorrow to attend the funeral services of J. A. Barrell, 65, formerly of this city, who died in a Zanesville hospital Saturday following an operation.

Mr. Barrell, who was born in McConnellsville, had been manager of the Mansfield office of the Interstate Loan company for 10 years prior to being transferred a year and a half ago to the Newark office of the same company.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. L. E. Greer of Newark. Services will be held at the home of his mother at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

THUG RIPE FOR REFORM

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. — (NS) — Police today hunted a bandit who was ripe for reform. Said the robber to his pal as they held up a filling station operator and took $200, "This is a hell of a way to make a living. We'll probably end up in jail."

BANKER'S RITES SET

TOLEDO —(AP)— Funeral services will be held Wednesday for Leo S. Werner, 45, vice president and secretary of the Title Guaranty & Trust company, who died here yesterday following a heart attack.

CRESTLINE—Mrs. William Albright of South street submitted to an operation at Emergency hospital Saturday morning.

CLUB FORMED

Nature Group Organizes, Adopts Constitution, By-Laws.

The Mansfield Nature club was organized at a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday when a constitution and by-laws were adopted. The club plans to meet the fourth Wednesday of each month with its membership open to anyone over 18 years of age.

Officers will be elected at the next meeting set for Wednesday, April 27. A nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Harry Constance, H. M. Spandau and Ralph Keil was named.

HELD ON GIRL'S ASSAULT STORY

Accused Clevelander Bound Over to Grand Jury as Second Man Is Sought.

Charges of a 17-year-old Mansfield girl that three attempts at assault had been made on her early Sunday resulted in the arrest today of a Cleveland man and sent the police and Sheriff E. P. Long on the trail of a second alleged offender.

D. W. Rice, 26, of Cleveland, was held to the county grand jury under $500 bond after he pleaded innocent in municipal court this morning to a charge of attempted assault on the girl.

Three other suspects had been questioned today in connection with an alleged attempt to attack the same girl as she walked home following the two attempts blamed on Rice.

In a statement to County Prosecutor Glenn W. Marriott, the girl said she had gone with Rice and was forced from his car near Lincoln Heights. He persuaded her to get in the car again, she said, and then made a second attempt to assault her.

Police were told she jumped from the car and started to walk home, and as she approached her home in the eastern section of the city, a man grabbed her as she passed a tree and pulled her into some bushes.

When she screamed, the man fled, she said.

A Farmer's Diary

March 13.

BEFORE dawn I was awakened by deep, rolling thunder. I heard a heavy drop of rain upon the metal porch roof, then another—four, five, a hundred—and then the sudden downpour.

I looked out. The heavy flash of zigzag lightening lit the eastern sky, and made the driving raindrops shine and glisten like a myriad frozen droplets going earthward.

I listened joyously to those tiny torrents, tearing through the air, breaking, crashing, splitting into many parts, before they reached the ground. I was tempted to go out of doors and feel the fresh baptism of this morning shower. Of course I did not—but I was tempted.

I waited for the first appearance of dawn and listened for the sound of waking birds. First a songsparrow from a nearby tree sang a drowsy note: the robin followed, twittering from his perch high in the elm top; I heard the meadowlark begin his flute-like song, concealed behind a tuft of grass in the hollow of the field. The killdee wheeled his graceful flight beneath the hill, and landed, running, crying in quick successive tones, "Killdee, killdee, killdee."

The catkins of the pussywillows have grown to almost adult size. The soft maple buds hang down like red, ripening fruit; the ends of lilac twigs slough off their loosened bracks.

"I come, I come, ye have called me long;
I come o'er the mountains with light and song"

HEAR TALK ON SOVIET RUSSIA

Galion Congregation Told of Suffering by Christians Under Red Rule.

GALION — First Reformed church was well filled Sunday evening to hear Alexander Voronaeff speak on Soviet Russia. Voronaeff, 24-year-old son of a Russian minister, described conditions in Russia and had lantern slides to illustrate his points.

His father and mother are now in concentration camps in Siberia, held without trial because of their religious convictions. Young Voronaeff spent the last 11 years in Russia, and is now on a nation-wide tour.

Pictures shown during his lectures were smuggled from Russia by decreasing them to the size of a postage stamp and concealing them between the layers of shoe leather.

The last time Voronaeff saw his father and mother they were behind bars, sentenced to eight years in Siberia. He said it was impossible to exaggerate the suffering of the millions of Christians who are compelled to live under the hammer and sickle.

Young Voronaeff helped to bury hundreds of victims of famine in Russia's most fertile agricultural section as late as 1933.

He told much of the sufferings of Christians, and that Russians must worship the state instead of God. He said that children do not "know" their parents, and are kept away from them.

MATCHES CLOSE

Galion Rifle, Pistol Tourney Draws Many Entrants.

GALION — The indoor tournament of the Crawford County Rifle and Pistol association was brought to a close Saturday evening at the Galion armory, and a dinner was served at Peace Lutheran parish house as a closing feature.

The general improvement trophy was awarded to Robert Mollenkopf of Galion, and the team improvement trophy was presented to the Galion Metallic Vault team.

Speakers for the banquet were Major Miller of Columbus, Q. D. Foster of Delaware, and R. H. Shell of Bucyrus.

Eighteen relays of 12 shooters each were on hand Friday evening for the tournament which was under the direction of Lloyd Bender, range officer of Galion. Other officers who assisted in the tournament were: Alberta Bersinger, registration desk; A. L. Beach, relay assignments; Frederick Honness and Donald Townsend, scoring; C. Mack, assitant range officer, with N. Upson on target relays, and Lloyd Turner in charge of practice targets.

MOVEMENT FOR TVA PROBE BY SOLONS GAINS

Senators and House Members Meet to Work Out Plans For Contemplated Action.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— Sen. George L. Berry, D., Tenn., today voiced a new demand for investigation of the Tennessee Valley Authority, making public a letter to Sen. George W. Norris, I., Neb., accusing TVA directors of faulty "business ethics" in connection with his marble claims.

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)— Rapidly crystallizing sentiment in both senate and house on the Tennessee Valley authority conflict today strengthened demands for a congressional investigation of the agency.

Despite an unyielding effort by most administration senators to put the inquiry into the hands of the federal trade commission, two developments indicated that a congressional investigation was nearer realization.

Map Program.

Sen. H. Styles Bridges R., N. H., and Sen. William H. King, D. Utah, joined forces with Rep. Maury Maverick, D. Tex., in an effort to overcome opposition to an inquiry by congress. Bridges and King, authors of a senate investigation resolution, and Maverick, sponsor of a similar house measure, meet today to work out their plans.

Sen. George W. Norris, I., Neb., author of a resolution for an FTC inquiry, said he still would fight for his proposal but, if necessary, would accept an unbiased congressional investigation.

The TVA quarrel, growing out of charges by Chairman Arthur E. Morgan against Directors David E. Lilienthal and Harcourt A. Morgan, appeared likely to reach its climax before the expiration of President Roosevelt's request for the three directors to appear or submit further statements to the White House by Friday.

FUNERAL TODAY

ASHLAND — Funeral services for Mrs. Mary A. DeLancy, 93, widow of a Civil war veteran and resident of Ashland county for 25 years, who died at her home here Friday afternoon, were held today with Rev. W. L. Desenberg officiating, and Rev. C. H. Deardorff assisting.

Mrs. DeLancy, a native of Richland county, was born near Ganges Dec. 2, 1845. She was married to Samuel B. DeLancy Apr. 16, 1864. Before moving to Ashland she had been a resident of Green county, Illinois, for 40 years.

Survivors include one foster son, Earl R. DeLancy.

2 YOUTHS HELD IN BURGLARIES

Police Seek 3 Others Believed Involved In Series of Thefts Here.

Two 16-year-old youths were held for questioning today while police sought to round-up other members of what they termed a youthful gang of at least five burglars.

The pair were arrested by Lieut. Paul Whipp and Patrolman John Gilbert yesterday afternoon, 12 hours after they had been routed from between two houses by John Beveridge, 62 South Willis avenue, when he came home early Sunday morning.

Police said the pair had confessed to at least four burglaries in recent weeks, including those at Public Library and the Y. M. C. A. They also implicated several other youths as their accomplices.

Beveridge returning home early Sunday told police that he saw the two boys loitering between the houses. When a neighbor turned on the porchlight, he said they ran to a parked car and drove east on Park avenue.

Police said Beveridge gave chase until he had obtained the license number of the machine. He also gave them a description of the car which they found parked on North Bowman street yesterday.

RITES SET FOR CO-FOUNDER OF SHELBY PLANT

H. W. Steele, Philanthropist and Capitalist, to Be Buried Wednesday.

SHELBY — This city today mourned the death of Harrison Warner Steele, Shelby capitalist and philanthropist, who died early Sunday at his home, 94 West Main street, following an illness of several weeks.

Funeral services for the widely known Shelby industrialist will be held at the Dick and Dye funeral home at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday with Rev. W. W. Ralph of the First Methodist church officiating. Burial will be in the Shelby cemetery.

Mr. Steele was prominently identified with the city's industrial growth.

He was co-founder and president of the Shelby Spring Hinge company, one of the oldest manufacturing concerns in the city. The company manufactures door hardware.

Native of Pennsylvania.

A native of Wilkes Barre, Pa., Mr. Steele came to Shelby at an early age, and took an active part in various civic affairs.

He was president of the First National bank for many years, and was a trustee of the First M. E. church and a former superintendent of the Sunday school.

His fraternal affiliations included the Mansfield Knights Templar, Dayton Consistory and Shelby lodge, F. and A. M.

The survivors include his widow, Emma, and a daughter, Mrs. Chester M. Anderson of Columbus.

Active pallbearers will be F. K. Hall, Leonard Morton, Clayton Mayer, H. E. Hubbs, R. J. Snyder, and Orin Phahlor, friends and business associates of the industrial leader.

Honorary pallbearers include W. J. Briggs, L. A. Dennis, H. G. Hildebrandt, W. W. Van Horn, C. C. Skiles, L. D. Malone, J. C. Morris, J. S. Seltzer, John Warden, C. S. Huber, Harry Sotzen, H. E. Sheets, H. Dale Kuhn, W. C. Critchfield and E. D. Dowds of Shelby, and Judge C. J. Anderson, Judge Edwin Mansfield, Judge Lewis Brucker, J. A. Rigby, James V. Will, Edward Dann and Frank Beverstock of Mansfield.

The body is at the funeral home.

FORMER SHELBY RESIDENT DIES

SHELBY—Mrs. Mary Allwein, 78, former Shelby resident, died Saturday at the home of her daughter, Miss Aida Allwein, Cleveland, following a lingering illness. Mrs. Allwein was born near Shelby, Aug. 14, 1859, and resided here until seven years ago when she moved to Cleveland to live with her daughter.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Demas Stickle of Boonton, N. J., and Miss Allwein; three brothers, Martin, Clement and George Payne of Shelby, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Sutter funeral home with Rev. R. T. Crowe of the First Church of Christ officiating. Burial will be in the Oakland cemetery.

Don't Neglect Your Child's Cold

Don't let chest colds or croupy coughs go untreated. Rub Children's Musterole on child's throat and chest at once. This milder form of regular Musterole penetrates, warms, and stimulates local circulation. Floods the bronchial tubes with its soothing, relieving vapors. Musterole brings relief naturally because it's a "counter-irritant"—NOT just a salve. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. Three strengths: Regular, Children's (mild), and Extra Strong.

"That bath with pure, sweet Cuticura Soap made me feel like a million. Three cheers for Cuticura Talcum, too, because it's so soothing. And Cuticura Ointment helps heal my simple baby chafing." Each 25¢. All druggists. Approved by Good Housekeeping Institute. For FREE sample write Cuticura, Dept. 96, Malden, Mass.

Too Ashamed of Her Skin to Go to Party

Skin blemishes are aggravated by constipation. Just as it can cause loss of appetite, nervousness, weakness.

Dr. F. M. Edwards treated hundreds of women for constipation and frequently noted remarkable improvement in their appearance. For his treatment he used a purely vegetable compound—Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. This laxative is gentle, yet peculiarly effective because it increases the bile flow without shocking the intestinal system.

If you have a pale face, sallow skin, blemishes, all you may need is this mild aid in relieving constipation. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are on sale at all druggists, 15¢, 30¢ and 60¢.

PICK DELEGATES

District Hi-Y Council to Send 3 to National Congress.

Meeting at the Mansfield Y. M. C. A. rooms yesterday afternoon, 32 representatives of Hi-Y clubs in the 15th district named three delegates to the national Hi-Y congress at Berea, Ky., in June.

Delegates chosen were Robert Emmer, Crestline; Robert Dickason, Wooster, and Paul Ulrich, Mt. Vernon. Alternates are Dale Painter, Crestline; Harlan Dix, Wooster, and Jack Barnard, Mt. Vernon.

Reports of Hi-Y activities in the district during the past month were heard at yesterday's session which was in charge of Robert Tobias, president of the Mansfield Senior Hi-Y club.

Representatives attended from Crestline, Mansfield, Ashland, Galion, Wooster, Mt. Vernon and Ortville.

The next district council meeting will be held April 10 in Ashland.

in a few dollars of the cost estimates of the highway department.

3. That the state estimates "were greatly in excess of the fair and reasonable value of the labor, material and services to be performed and furnished."

Charges "Rakeoff."

4. That every bid submitted by members of the association on state work "included a rakeoff or payoff or padding of between $2.00 and $5.00 per cubic yard."

5. That the increased prices were added to the cost, "each of the bidders and director of highways knowing that the price of the bid was out of proportion to the value of materials, labor and services rendered."

6. That many of the defendants sold similar products to counties and municipalities "at a price between $2.00 and $5.00 less than the bids were made to the state of Ohio."

The suit asked for an accounting of funds "that may be found to have been paid in excess of a fair and reasonable value," plus a twofold judgment of the amount. It asked an injunction against further operation by Simpson and the "hot mix" association of the "conspiracy" and sought to enjoin Jaster from awarding a contract to any of the defendant members of the association.

The petition also appealed for an injunction to prevent State Auditor Ferguson from "destroying" any books or records pertaining to contracts and to prevent him from paying any funds on contracts obtained from the state by members of the association.

A temporary restraining order was issued in the case this morning and hearing date for arguments on a permanent injunction was set for March 31.

The Fellowship of Prayer

Daily Lenten Devotion

By DR. WILLARD L. SPERRY

Monday, March 14 — "If the prophet had bid thee do some great thing, wouldest thou not have done it? how much rather then, when he saith to thee, Wash, and be clean?" Read II Kings 5:8-14.

Let us turn back for a moment, to one of the noblest stories in the Old Testament.

Father George Tyrrell says that in the text for the day, we have nearly all the instruction on religion which we need.

To go and wash in the meagre, muddy Jordan just at hand, instead of in some far-off and nobler river; that seemed to Naaman both an insult to his self-esteem, and a poor prescription to get from a great prophet. How much more important and confident we feel when we come away from the doctor with a hieroglyphic message to the drug store specially written for us, than when we leave after being told, "What you need is to exercise more and to eat less!"

We misconstrue the nature of religion if we require it to ask "great things" of us. What it asks, when it is truest to itself, is some simple, native, near-at-hand thing which, unless we are wise, is apt to seem an insult to us and a reflection on itself.

Prayer: Almighty God, who dost call and continually recall us to the needful and repeated acts of daily life, grant that we may have wisdom to trust that call and thus be joined to the common heart of man. Amen.

CHINESE HALT JAP ADVANCES

Nippon Troops Stalled On All Fronts By Strong Resistance.

SHANGHAI —(AP)— The Japanese invaders were stalled on all of China's far-flung war fronts today.

Shock troops which crossed the Yellow river 20 miles west of Cheng-chow last week and disrupted service over Lunghai railway apparently have been wiped out or driven back.

Traffic has been resumed over the vital China line and Chinese troops, stubbornly fighting all along the Yellow river front, have succeeded in preventing further Japanese advances.

ARMS HIKE SEEN BRITISH ANSWER

ament, especially as concerns the air force, is a foregone conclusion. The question now is merely the rate of acceleration.

That the cabinet is unlikely to agree to make any positive commitments regarding the independence of Czechoslovakia was learned from reliable sources.

It is believed the most Premier Chamberlain will do is warn Hitler that the nations of Europe cannot continue to permit military invasions of neighboring states.

Important statements on Britain's attitude will be given in the houses of commons and lords later in the day by Prime Minister Chamberlain and Foreign Minister Viscount Halifax, respectively.

One favorable development arose on the quaking international horizon.

Marshal Hermann Goering, Hitler's acting deputy in Berlin, reportedly promised Czechoslovakia that the reich has no designs on Czechoslovakia's territorial integrity.

Germany has suggested to Prague that a new understanding be reached like that now existing between Germany and Poland, a high diplomatic source said. Thereunder the German minority of some 3,000,000 in Czechoslovakia would be given administrative autonomy.

The Czechs, under such an agreement, would give up their defensive pact with Russia, while Germany would undertake to defend Czechoslovakia against any external aggression.

RECEIPTS CLIMB

February Court Revenue Hits $1,987, Increase of $789.

The city's general fund today was increased by $1,741.50 from municipal court receipts for February which totaled $1,987.05, according to a monthly report of collections prepared today by Miss Isabel Gerstmeyer, deputy clerk. This is an increase of $789.40 over January receipts and practically the same amount collected in February, 1937.

Part of the gain in February was attributed to increased revenues from traffic violations which soared nearly $500 over January.

Of the total receipts, $319 was distributed to the county, state and law library. The city's share was derived from $1,424.50 collected as fines and costs in criminal cases and $245.55 collected as costs in civil cases.

Fines and costs collected in city criminal cases totaled $393.10; traffic forfeitures $819; city's share from state highway patrol cases $30.30; forfeitures in criminal cases $67.80, and costs payable to the city from state cases $114.30.

COUNTY TO DROP RELIEF BURDEN

Board Turns Over Problem on Wednesday But Will Pay For Auditing, Office.

for the council session, Hunter said.

Madison township trustees were still undecided today on a method of providing for their share of the expense. They will receive administration funds from the state's $5,500 monthly allocation to the county, but the township's share of the relief load last month amounted to $6,500 and the difference must come from another source.

The county, too still has its problem of finances. Commissioners agreed to give the city and township a clean slate when the shift is made Wednesday and in doing that left themselves with more than $30,000 in old relief bills to be paid.

County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe said a transfer from the unused relief bond retirement fund would pay a part of the bill.

"But we don't know about the rest," he said.

The Shelby city council is scheduled to meet tonight to ponder the problem of financing a relief program. With only 64 relief cases last month, Shelby's entire expense was $1,090.

Under a matching program set up in January, the county will receive $5,500 a month from the state for the remainder of the year to allocate to the sub-divisions according to their needs as determined by the monthly audit of account.

WHEEL CHAIR FOR PERSHING

TUCSON, Ariz.—(INS)—Continuing his remarkable recovery after being on the verge of death two weeks ago, Gen. John J. Pershing may leave his bed for a wheel chair in a few days.

Loans are made in a confidential, business-like way in amounts from $25 to $1000 on your own signature and personal security.

A young farmer with several pressing obligations and past-due notes came to The City Loan and was advised to visit his creditors and see what arrangements could be made for settlement. He was surprised to find that he could earn large discounts for cash payment.

He also needed a farm trailer. We happened to know where he could buy one at a bargain. He obtained the money from The City Loan, paid all obligations, bought the bargain trailer and came out money ahead—with no more debt worries.

Thus a little "team work" proved helpful to another City Loan customer.

Select any amount of cash you need. Then write or phone us, without obligation, for complete data about that loan.

HITLER RIDES INTO CHEERING GERMAN VIENNA

Comes as Conquering Hero to Capital of New Nazi State; Austrian Jews In Panic.

remnants of the Austro-Hungarian empire, to Vienna.

In every village thousands of his countrymen jammed the roads in frantic determination to catch a glimpse of the man who has been described as the savior of the German race.

Breaking police lines, flower-throwing women and children blocked the way of the "imperial train," requiring the strength of all his guards to force a passage for him.

Hitler has had many great days but few have ever matched this one. He was returning in the style of an Alexander to the city which he left 25 years ago as a house-painter with all his belongings wrapped up in a handkerchief.

Anti-Jewish Drive Begins.

The gigantic task of fitting Austria into the autarchic, anti-Semitic German reich began in earnest today as Hitler neared the capital.

Ordinances were enacted affecting Jews, churches, sports, finances—and the clubs of policemen.

The new laws exclude Jews from the practise of law or from holding judicial office, depriving about 75,000 persons of their livelihood. This number includes some 70 per cent of all the lawyers in Austria.

Next will come banning of Jewish doctors from the practice of medicine, affecting about 60,000 or 55 per cent of all Austrian physicians, and then journalists, affecting about 1,000.

Another decree unites the Evangelical church of Austria with that of Germany.

The population listened for hours today to the broadcast of a new law regulating finance and business transactions to conform with Germany's planned economy.

More Laws to Come.

These laws and many more to come are Austria's lot in the most dramatic military coup of modern times which made this ancient nation a province of Nazi Germany, under direct control of its brown-shirt leaders and all vestige of independence gone with the forced resignation of President Wilhelm Miklas.

There was a determined attempt by the new rulers of Austria to show that the Nazi regime will be a peaceful one and that ejection of Kurt Schuschnigg and his "crowd" ushers in a new era of quiet.

Every half hour an order was broadcast forbidding Storm Troops to make arrests, confiscations or sequestrations without formal authorization.

Simultaneously with announcement all sports organizations will henceforth be united with German ones came a communique prohibiting police from using the steel-cored rubber "billies" long familiar to trouble-makers in Vienna.

These had been previously used to good advantage by the Austrian police. They were termed today, however, as "beneath the dignity of the Germany people."

100,000 Troops in Austria.

Not less than one hundred thousand German troops are today estimated to be in occupation of the new German province of Austria, and it is now plain that what looked at first like a military demonstration to support Hitler's political possession of his native land has turned into a strategic advance, which has frightened central Europe like nothing since the last great war.

I made the trip along what was, 24 hours ago, the Austro-German frontier, and all night I motored through columns of those heavy-booted, straight-backed, blue-eyed soldiers, whose fathers less than a quarter of a century ago nearly conquered the world.

They are now coming in through every pass on the frontier. They are being met by villagers who for the last two days have quit all work to stand and cheer and yell "Heil Hitler!" while children run frantically about waving flags and picking up leaflets dropped from flocks of German war planes criss-crossing day and night on the Austrian side.

Black Guards There.

Of all the units here the crack one is Hitler's Leibscangarte, the elite troop of black guards especially detailed for his protection. They are all over six feet tall and drilled to rival West Point cadets.

Everything is being done to impress the population of the Austrian capital with the magnificence and glory of the German armies.

Massed German troops are on the Italian and Czech borders. Their appearance at the Brenner pass was the most significant feature of this latest European move, and the complacence expressed by the Italian press has not persuaded observers that Mussolini is not the greatest loser of all except, perhaps, the Austrian Jews.

Von Ribbentrop Hurries To Parley With Hitler.

BERLIN—(U.P.)—Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop left for Vienna by airplane today to consult Adolf Hitler regarding a proposed note to foreign powers requesting them to withdraw their diplomatic representatives from Vienna.

Germany's plan, it was understood, was to advise foreign powers in one note that Austria had become a part of Germany and that, therefore, there was no need for them to maintain diplomatic representatives at Vienna.

It was said officially that in his talks with Hitler at Vienna Ribbentrop would report on his discussions in London. It was during Ribbentrop's visit that Great Britain and France protested strongly to Germany against her course in Austria—and that Germany rejected the protests.

Blum, New Premier, Plans 'Firm' Stand.

PARIS—(U.P.)—Premier Leon Blum today headed a new popular front government pledged to fulfill its "duties" in the European crisis "without delay" and "with quiet firmness."

The scholarly socialist took over the premier's office last night from Camille Chautemps, who resigned Thursday, leaving France for four days without a government in the midst of Europe's most serious crisis since the World war.

Last night, after the retiring foreign minister, Yvon Delbos had acquainted Blum and the new foreign minister, Joseph Paul Boncour, with the Austrian situation as reported by diplomatic agents, Blum made a nation wide radio appeal.

"This moment in history is serious," he declared. "We are considering the situation in which France has been placed, and consequently the duties that await us and which we have begun to fulfill without delay, prudently and wisely but with quiet firmness."

Nazis In Danzig Eye Austria With Envy.

FREE CITY OF DANZIG—(AP)—Nazis of Danzig, already masters of this nominally free and formerly German city of 400,000 persons, today pleaded through their newspaper organ for union with the expanding German Reich.

Envious Nazi eyes were turned toward Austria, which yesterday abandoned the freedom Nazi Danzig no longer wants. An editorial in the Danziger Vorposten, official Nazi organ, expressed this viewpoint:

"Who will blame us that our glances now go across the border with envy? Now Danzig remains the only German commonwealth outside the Reich's borders.

"Danzig's future lies definitely in the aim — which always has motivated it because of its pure German character — to serve the German people in every possible way.

'Still Friends' Duce Tells Hitler In Note.

ROME—(INS)—Solidarity of the Rome-Berlin axis was responsible for Premier Mussolini's approval of Reichfuehrer Adolf Hitler's annexation of Austria, Il Duce declared today.

Replying to a telegram from Hitler in which the Fuehrer told Mussolini "I shall never forget this day," Mussolini said:

"My attitude was determined by the friendship between our two countries which is consecrated in the Rome-Berlin axis."

TRADERS TURN ATTENTION TO STEELS, PLANES

Affairs Abroad Spur Action In Stocks That Might Benefit by World Rearming.

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—Armament stocks, led by steels and aircrafts, were in the forefront of a quiet market rally today that lifted prices fractions to more than 2 points.

A little profit selling, however, edged into the list near the second hour and top marks were shaded in many instances.

The turn of affairs abroad, brokers said, brought renewed attention to stocks that might benefit by world re-arming.

The sharp break in the French franc reflected partly purchases of dollars in Europe. Bonds did better, but commodities were uneven.

A mildly hopeful note was sounded by the magazine "Steel" which said a better feeling was noticeable in this field although buying has not increased materially.

Lagging demand for automobile steel was seen as the principal drawback to any substantial expansion of mill operations. The slack here was believed to be partially compensated by steady requirements of agricultural machinery manufacturers and miscellaneous demand.

NO DECISION

Supreme Court Fails To Rule On Holding Company Act.
